New Copter Units Asked To Fill Gap Left By Viet Nam

Army Proposing Five Companies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army wants to create some new helicopter companies to fill the gap left in U.S.-based forces when chopper outfits were sent to war in South Viet Nam.

Informed sources said today the Army has proposed to the Defense Department that five new helicopter companies be formed.

This proposal calls for an increase of 125 choppers and more than 1,000 men.

The Army now has 12 helicopter companies in Viet Nam totaling about 300 machines. They are assigned chiefly to airlifting South Vietnamese army units into battle against the Communist Viet Cong.

The most recent arrivals were three companies equipped with the latest model UH1D, a machine which can carry 11 soldiers.

The three outfits were drawn from the 1st Infantry Division, Ft. Riley, Kan., the 101st Airborne Division, Ft. Campbell, Ky., and the 82nd Airborne Division, Ft. Bragg, N.C.

These three divisions are part of the Army's strategic reserve of eight regular divisions kept ready in the United States for swift movement to crisis points around the world.

Meanwhile, the Army released figures claiming that from Jan. 1, 1962 to last May 31 it lost only 45 helicopters in South Viet Nam as a result of Communist action.

Second Joint Assault Made

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—More than 1,000 American troops joined Vietnamese and Australian forces today for their second combined operation against the Viet Cong. Like the first such operation, there was no significant contact with the enemy, a U.S. spokesman reported.

Fighting was bloodier elsewhere .A U.S. spokesman said two Americans and 26 Vietnamese mountain troops were missing and four Vietnamese were killed in mountainous Pleiku Province, 215 miles northeast of Saigon.

About 2,500 troops were involved in the combined operation, including two battalions of U.S. paratroopers from the 173rd Airborne Brigade, one battalion of the Royal Australian Regiment, and two Vietnamese army battalions.

The operation was preceded by artillery and air bombardment of a stretch of jungle about 30 miles northeast of Saigon. Then about 100 helicopters began shuttling the troops in.

They were landed in "D Zone," in the same general vicinity as the last joint operation.

Helicopters reported groundfire on the way, but a U.S. spokesman reported no casualties, damage or enemy contact throughout the day.

B52 bombers of the Strategic Air Command dropped 500 pounds of bombs into the Viet Cong-controlled "D Zone" Mon-

Body Lay Unburied Five To 10 Years

The near-complete skeleton of a small adult was discovered yesterday afternoon by a fisherman exploring the remote recesses of Lone Tree Creek, about four miles north of Muir Beach.

Sheriff's officers said the sun-bleached and weathered skull, believed to have lain there five to 10 years, had a single cut about two inches long near its top.

"Why anyone would be in this particular location is a mystery in itself," commented Sheriff's Capt. Sidney Stinson. He said fuller inspection of the site was being made today and all bones will be turned over to the Marin County coroner's office for detailed study.

ROCK FISHING

The skeleton was found about 2 p.m. by David Michael Sherard of San Francisco, who had been rock-fishing at Muir Beach with an Oakland companion, Andrew Lomella. Sherard entered the mouth of the creek bed, working through heavy poison oak, underbrush and jagged rocks to find shells along the stream.

He told officers he found the bones about 150 yards from the beach. They were still in rough outline of the human frame, he said, but a few had scattered in a 10-foot radius.

Deputies said Sherard thought them to be those of some ancient Indian and collected four pieces of bone, returning with them to San Francisco. He later called San Francisco police, who notified Marin sheriff's officers.

LIGHT SEARCH

Captain Stinson and other officers, led by Sherard, returned with flashlights to the site about 10:30 p.m. yesterday.

Stinson said it was not possible to determine if the skeleton was male or female. There was no indication of a grave, he said. The skeleton was on a bank several feet above the running water.

There was no evidence of clothing, buttons, or other personal paraphernalia, he added.

The officer declined to speculate how the person died. He said motor vehicles from time to time have crashed off the nearby Shoreline Highway, but to his knowledge all occupants have been accounted for. He estimated no more than half-a-dozen people have ever been in that immediate ravine area because of its inaccessibility.

Soldier Gets 50 Years For Widow Slaying

Hugh Leroy Erwin Jr. of San Anselmo was sentenced to 50 years in prison today for the knife slaying of an elderly widow in Virginia.

Sentence was pronounced by Judge Carlton D. Mayes in circuit court in Nottoway, Va., where Erwin was found guilty of first degree murder by a jury on June 26.

Erwin, 20, an Army private stationed at Camp Pickett, Va., was convicted of the murder of Mrs. Lila Ward, 78, last Nov. 5 in her home at Blackstone, Va. Mrs. Ward died of multiple wounds. A five-inch steak knife was identified as the murder weapon.

Defense attorney Cummings said he would study the record before deciding whether to appeal the conviction, the Associated Press reported from Nottoway.

Erwin, about two years in the army, went to Mrs. Ward's home on the evening of Nov. 5, reportedly to call on Rev. Ralph Johnson of the Crenshaw Methodist Church, who had a room there, Rev. Johnson told police that Erwin telephoned him at 9:15 p.m. that something had happened to Mrs. Ward. The cleric and police went to the home, found Erwin standing outside and Mrs. Ward's body in the house.

Transit Solution Seems Far Away

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Marin County supervisors today heard many comments and criticisms on the Fanning transportation study's proposals that the Marin Rapid Transit District underwrite Greyhound bus service and seemed farther from a solution to the crowded commute problem when the session came to a close.

Under discussion was the report by retired transit executive Paul J. Fanning, filed last week. It suggested the county take over the present Greyhound Lines commute system in Marin or control it through a management contract. The latter proposal would have the smaller operating loss—about $171,000 a year, Fanning said.

Either method called for investment in county, bridge district and federal funds of 3.6 million dollars in new buses.

The Marin council for civic affairs commended Fanning for his report today but suggested the study be carried further and turned over to the county's recently hired traffic engineer.

Naphtali H. Knox of Mill Valley, chairman of the civic affairs council, also said the county must have a study of the number of standees on buses and must do something to improve shelters and parking areas for commuters.

Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato, a director on the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District, said the first priority in improving the bus system was to guarantee a seat for all. He said the second priority would be improvement of routing, both in San Francisco and Marin, and purchase of new buses should come third.

Margaret Azevedo of the Bay Area Transit Study Commission said the people need tangible evidence that bus service has been improved, and new buses might be the best way of doing it.

Eric Mohr of Kentfield called for the county to move with caution in getting into bus service.

"I'm not sure that you can have such spectacular success based on the modern recommendations contained here," Mohr said, referring to the Fanning study.

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer suggested the board give study to other methods of travel, particularly boats.

Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker contended buses are the only practical approach for an interim solution. Chairman Peter H. Behr agreed.

The board discussed the study for two hours and finally agreed to take it up again on Monday.

Cecil J. Allen of the Richmond-San Rafael bus lines called for the board to study means of helping the "little fellow."

Balloon Flies Over To Napa In 'Blastoff'

Nancy Perry's balloon flew to Napa.

So far, that puts 7-year-old Nancy, of 44 Robinhood Drive, in first place among some 800 San Rafael children who last Tuesday sent helium-filled balloons aloft, each with a return postcard attached, from city parks and playgrounds.

Nancy's postcard was returned by Kathy Long of Napa.

The wind was strong toward Napa, apparently. Nine-year-old Roann Sullivan's balloon was found at Napa Junction. Linda and Debbie Johnson sent up a balloon that came to earth in Vallejo.

Seventeen postcards had been returned today from the "Operation Blastoff" balloons, the city recreation department reported. Prizes for those whose balloons went farthest will be awarded after Aug. 7—the date by which, recreation officials decided, all postcards should be back regardless of how far the balloons travelled.

ORDEAL OVER VIET NAM

By HAL BOYLE

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — It all happened in 16 terrible minutes.

In that incredible fraction of an hour, a U.S. Air Force pilot napalm-bombed a target, his plane caught fire, he bailed out, landed in enemy territory and was plucked to safety by a passing Army helicopter.

"That's the only real emergency I've had in more than 4,000 hours in the air," said Capt. Edward F. Gallardo, 33, of Armstrong Creek, Wis.

Ed is a dark-haired, F100 pilot who stands 5 feet 5, and weighs only 137 pounds. His wife, Pat, and their five children — none of whom is more than 5 years old — live in Hampton, Va.

The fighter pilot's battle ordeal came on a recent Sunday when he had to skip morning religious services because of an early mission.

The mission was his 35th in some 40 days.

"I was first of our flight in on the target, some Viet Cong emplacements 42 miles south of here," said Gallardo. "I came in fast at 50 to 100 feet above the ground.

"I pushed what we call the pickle button to release the napalm cans. Immediately there was a loud explosion, and the cockpit filled with smoke. I didn't know whether I had been hit by ground fire, or something had gone wrong with the napalm.

Instinctively, he put the plane into a climb.

"The smoke began to clear, but my plane was burning badly. I didn't know whether it would blow up or not. But you don't bail out over a target area if you can help it, and I headed toward the sea.

"I got up to 5,000 feet. At 6,000 feet the speed began to bleed down. The plane started to roll. The controls had burned away. I had become just a passenger, I had to go."

The captain jettisoned his canopy, pulled his triggers and was ejected.

"There was a big blast, and the next thing I knew I was floating down about 12 miles from the target area. It was a great view and I had plenty of time to think, but all I thought about was landing in a clear space."

"I hit about 20 feet from a small boy," he said. "His eyes got big, he made a 180-degree turn and ran. I ran in the opposite direction toward a rice paddy, scattering dogs and chickens. I could be picked up there, but hide in the shrubbery around it if necessary."

Five planes circled protectively around his position and a pararescue team scrambled at the base here to get him. But an Army helicopter crew, apprised of his plight, picked him up.

"I wasn't on the ground more than five minutes," said the captain.

Mill Valley Fete Attracts 5,500

Mill Valley's three-day celebration of opening of the city community and youth center at Project 17 drew about 5,500 people, Mill Valley Youth Council officials estimated today.

Sunday's turn-out was the biggest for any event in Mill Valley's history," said Les Mize, co-director of the council.

Auto Crash Toll Rises For Holiday

At least 12 persons were hurt in nine accidents throughout Marin County on the last day of the long holiday weekend, according to the California Highway Patrol and local police departments.

The crashes brought the accident toll for the weekend to one death and more than a score of injuries. Sixteen persons were hurt in the 27 accidents investigated by the highway patrol between 6 p.m. Friday and last midnight.

The death was that of Diane D. Sporleder, 22, of Petaluma, who was killed early Saturday in a one-car crash near Fallon.

Among those injured was Helen Davidson, 49, of 5 Corte Allegre, Greenbrae, in satisfactory condition today at Marin General Hospital with fractures of both legs and a broken jaw.

Highway patrolmen reported that her southbound car hit a Golden Gate Bridge guard rail and swerved across six lanes of traffic at 10 a.m. Saturday to strike the guard rail on the opposite side of the bridge.

Vera Frank, 39, of 662 San Jose Boulevard, Novato, was under observation today at Letterman General Hospital at the Presidio of San Francisco. She was feared to have spinal injuries.

The car in which she was riding, driven by Donald N. Hollingsworth, 22, of Hamilton Air Force Base, struck a utility pole

Spacemen Plan 'Laser' Contact

SPACE CENTER, Houston — (UPI) — U. S. astronauts Frank Borman and James Lovell said today they will attempt to communicate with a ground station via light beam called "Laser" during their planned 14-day voyage into orbit early next year.

The Laser is a beam of intense light that could permit a voice communications over long distances in space. This will be the first attempt to use such a beam on a manned orbital flight.

The astronauts, who will fly America's Gemini-7, possibly as early as January, said the Laser experiment will be tried in a pass over a tracking station at White Sands, N.M. White Sands will flash the first beam.

Congolese Capture Rebel Stronghold

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (UPI) — Congo army troops have captured the rebel-held junction town of Aketi in the Northern Congo with the loss of three Congolese soldiers, military sources said today.

Six white mercenaries of the French-speaking "Sixth Commando" under Maj. Bob Denard were also wounded in the fighting, according to sketchy reports reaching here.

Mercy Flight Helps Badly Burned Mother

LOS ANGELES (AP) — For two months a young Mexican mother, burned over 70 per cent of her body, took aspirin, sat through 115-degree heat in her mud hut in a remote village, and waited for help to come.

It did, in the form of five doctors who spent the Independence Day weekend flying mercy missions into Mexican villages where there is no medical aid.

50-50 CHANCE

Now Ramona Franco de Portola, who spent those two months in an upright position, is lying down — here at White Memorial Hospital where doctors give her a 50-50 chance of surviving.

Dr. Robert Lawson, an Upland, Calif., dentist who helped bring her north, described her suffering from third - degree burns as "a living hell."

"Since a stove set her clothes afire May 5, she lived in an upright position in unbelievable pain in the hut where temperatures rose to 115 degrees," said Lawson.

FEAR OF FLIGHT

Fearing her first airplane ride and reluctant to leave her 2-year-old child, Mrs. de Portola postponed her departure a day until her husband, Humberto, 25, convinced her it was for the best, Lawson said.

The woman was burned on the Mexican Cinco de Mayo holiday when she tried to light her primitive stove for her family's holiday meal.

"She was propped on the bed, and she apparently moved very little until we found her," said Lawson. "Any movement of her body brought excruciating pain. Only a very brave woman with a strong will to live could have survived it."

Official Missing On Delta Outing

ANTIOCH (UPI)—Claude Anderson, 48, Salinas, an official of the Industrial Accident Commission, was believed drowned when he fell off a sailboat during the weekend in San Joaquin River.

"We don't know how he fell overboard," said Jesse Fluarte, Stockton, the boat owner. "He was walking towards the stern and we just heard a thump and a splash and that was it."

Another passenger, Lauren Rupert, Stockton, said he threw Anderson a life preserver but it missed him. He said the sailboat was blown downwind and when it came back, Anderson was missing.

The president of the Marin Coin Club is Jack V. Repp and Glenn H. Murray is vice president.

TEENER PHENOMENON: MAIN STREET WALKING

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — Businessmen and law enforcement officials in this southeastern Massachusetts city of 10,000 are baffled by a teen-age phenomenon.

Every Thursday night—shopping night downtown—up to 3,000 youngsters of both sexes pour into the downtown area and promenade along the main streets.

There's no disorder. Police officials say youngsters just walk aimlessly up and down the sidewalks.

Nobody can figure out why the kids choose Thursday night or the purpose of the promenade. Some youngsters say simply "We like to meet people." A boy offers another explanation, "to try to pick up girls, what else?"

Holiday Sets Record For Traffic Deaths

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Belated reports of traffic deaths during the three-day Fourth of July weekend raised the national toll today to 542, a record for a three-day observance of the holiday.

The count of traffic fatalities this year came close to the record for a four-day Independence observance, 557 in 1963.

The tally of traffic deaths began at 6 p.m. (Local time) Friday and continued to midnight Monday.

"Never has driver improvement been more badly needed," Pyle said. "The attitudes and skills of too many drivers are failing to meet the exacting demands of billions of miles of high pressure travel.

"Every driver," Pyle said, "should begin at once to sharpen old skills and develop new ones through available driver improvement programs."

Another safety council spokesman estimated that the final toll would be about 550 traffic deaths. "More traffic fatalities may be counted during the final hours of the weekend," he said.

"Motorists who delayed their start home are tired, in a rush," he added. "They're driving faster than conditions permit and they make mistakes."

Traffic accidents in five states — California, Missouri, New York, Ohio and Texas — accounted for more than one-third of the deaths.

Fifty persons were killed on California roads, 31 in Missouri, 33 in New York, 36 in Ohio and 27 in Texas.

No traffic deaths were reported in three states — Rhode Island, Delaware and Alaska. The District of Columbia also reported no traffic fatalities.

Boating accidents across the nation took 35 lives and 119 persons drowned in accidents not involving boats during the three-day weekend.

Stray Roundup Net Two Dogs

Only two dogs have been picked up by the Marin County Humane Society in a roundup of strays begun last week in Mill Valley and Tamalpais Valley, the society reported today.

An extra patrol has been working in the areas after complaints about dogs creating a nuisance, said Mel L. Morse, executive director.

The extra patrol will continue to work in areas for at least two more weeks, Morse said.

Coastal Mists Drop Mercury In Valley Area

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Aside from coastal fog, fair weather will continue over California through tomorrow, the forecaster said today.

Scattered thunderstorms are likely, however, in mountain areas and in the deserts during afternoon and evening hours.

Dense fog developed over San Francisco Bay yesterday. During the night it forced cool ocean air into the Sacramento Valley and coastal valleys opening to the bay.

The forecaster said this would lower the heat that prevailed in the Sacramento Valley and delta area yesterday, and cause temperatures to drop in coastal valleys.

Art, Garden Dismantling Begins Today

The spirit of 1900 faded from the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross today as workers began dismantling the rides and exhibits of the 1965 Marin Art and Garden Fair, "Summertime 1900," which closed last night.

Planning was already under way for next year's fair.

With the weatherman's help, the fair drew another heavy crowd in its closing day, bringing the 1965 attendance to more than 3,300 above that of last year.

Yesterday's paid attendance of 7,109, while below the Saturday and Sunday turnouts, was enough to raise the total for the five days to 29,964. There were 26,642 tickets sold for the 1964 fair.

Continued sunny skies combined with slightly cooler temperatures to make an ideal day for strolling through the center yesterday, listening to music, riding the ferris wheel or viewing the turn-of-the-century exhibits and gardens.

Alabama Aide Says Probe Of Klan Making Progress

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Fear of — and sympathy for — the Ku Klux Klan is hampering his investigation of the hooded order, says Alabama Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers. However, he claims he is making progress.

In an interview yesterday Flowers said, "This bunch has a lot of people scared.

"In Alabama, my main problem is that the Klan has a lot of sympathizers. We have to educate the people to just what kind of a lousy, tough bunch the Klan is."

Robert A. Shelton, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., imperial wizard of the United Klans of America, could not be reached for comment.

Flowers also said without elaborating, "I have felt all along that there has been a tremendous amount of foot-dragging going on" in connection with an inquiry into Klan activities by the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

Mariner Rushing Towards Mars

PASADENA (UPI) — Mariner 4 was calculated to be 1,958,000 miles from Mars and 127,171,370 miles from earth today at noon.

Scientists at the California Institute of Technology's Jet Propulsion Laboratory (JPL) here estimated that Mariner 4 has traveled more than 315 million miles since it was launched last Nov. 28 from Cape Kennedy, Fla.

Hurtling through space at 62,900 miles per hour, Mariner 4 was expected to fly past the mysterious red planet July 14 and take a series of historic first closeup television photographs of the Martian surface for relay to earth.

Pentagon Aide Quits For U.C. Fiscal Job

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Charles J. Hitch, assistant secretary of defense for budgeting, resigned yesterday to join the University of California as vice president in charge of finance.

A White House spokesman said Hitch's resignation was effective Aug. 31. He has held the post since January, 1961.

Suitor Killed After Slaying Two, Fleeing

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A young man armed with a repeating rifle killed a policeman and the father of his girl friend today and wounded two other officers. He was shot to death at dawn after a massive manhunt.

The rifleman was identified as Leroy Francis Scott, about 24, a Negro hot-rod enthusiast with blondish hair and a record of minor arrests.

Two patrolmen surprised him in a wooded area where he had hidden for five hours, nursing an apparently serious gunshot wound in an earlier exchange with police.

They shot him as he raised his rifle. He died en route to a hospital.

"We knew he was wounded but he didn't look too hurt to me when he raised that rifle," said patrolman James Hintemeyer, 35.

Killed in the earlier exchange of gunfire with Scott were patrolman Coleman McDonough, a former pro football player, and Aaron Godfrey.

McDonough and officers Leo Mincin, 37, and Joseph Laffey, 32, who were wounded, had been called to the Godfrey home, a two-story frame house in a low-rent section of the city's Hazelwood section.

Police said there apparently had been an argument over Scott's attentions to Godfrey's 16-year-old daughter, Ruth. The Godfreys also are Negroes.

Hanoi Missile Sites Ready?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A State Department spokesman said today work on two missile sites in North Viet Nam is virtually complete and two other missile sites have reached an advanced stage.

Press officer Robert J. McCloskey said that there is no evidence that missiles have been installed in the two completed sites. But obviously, he added, this is a question of time.

All the work on missile installations is being done in the Hanoi and port of Haiphong areas, he said.

Mill Valley Mollifies Tam Board On Annex

Tamalpais High School could probably never be annexed to the City of Mill Valley unless that city were able to take in some undeveloped land at the same time.

With this explanation and an apology for trouble caused, Mill Valley Mayor Michael Wornum apparently brought his city back into the good graces of Tamalpais High School District trustees last night.

The trustees objected at their June 21 meeting to being used by the city as a lever to annex other areas bordering Mill Valley.

Wornum apologized for not explaining the annexation procedure before. He said his council was "distressed" by the board's reaction.

"We are going to have to work together," he said. "I feel the way we have started out bodes no good for the future."

Mill Valley is annexing 127 acres of lowlands including Tamalpais High School. Other property owners in the area opposed the annexation.

Wornum told the board last night that his city's figures showed only 18.81 per cent of the property represented by owners in opposition, however.

The tone of the trustee's reaction to Wornum's appearance was set by trustee Gloria Melbostad, who said:

"I think we all appreciate the fact that you came here in person to explain this. I can't believe there is any reason to continue this feud and I'm sure the board and your council will come to a happy relationship."

Chairman Edmund J. Thomas Jr., who cast the only vote against the annexation at the meeting June 21, said he agreed with Mrs. Melbostad "in general."

"It did seem as though we were being used as a lever," he said.

Sniper Cleared Of Killing Pair

HONOLULU (AP) — A Honolulu detective said today that Michael Patrick Moeller, 23, has an airtight alibi in the 1964 sniper slaying of a San Diego couple.

Moeller faces arraignment on a charge of the first - degree murder of Patrolman Bradley N. Kaanana, 25 — killed by a sniper's bullet at Pali Lookout Saturday night.

Detective Dan Lea said Moeller could not have been the sniper who killed Johnny and Joyce Swindle, 19-year-old honeymooners, at San Diego Feb. 7, 1964. Lee said Moeller was in the Air Force at Amarillo, Tex., and was not discharged until March 6, 1964.

Thunderstorms Lambaste Florida

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)— Torrential rains, hail and hurricane-force winds swept through suburban Tampa last night, downing power lines, uprooting trees and shrubs and flooding streets.

"We were completely bombarded by lightning for two solid hours. It was one of the worst thunderstorms I've ever seen in my life," said Robert Hill, forecaster with the Tampa Weather Bureau, who lives six miles east southeast of Tampa.

Hill said three to four inches of rain fell within two hours and winds hit 60 and 75 miles an hour.

AUTO NEITHER RUNS NOR SWIMS

Detroit, Mich. workmen struggle today to get chains on the rear end of this car that ended up in a motel's swimming pool yesterday. The car, being towed past the motel, snapped its tow chain and plunged into the pool, much to the amazement of a lone swimmer—who, however, escaped without injury.

Burglars Hit Greenbrae Residence

Deputies said Mrs. Diediker of 41 Bret Harte Road, discovered the weekend break-in on returning from a visit with a friend. Intruders had attempted to pry a downstairs window, they said, then broke the pane.

Taken were several rings—one a woman's diamond ring insured for $2,000—pearls, a man's gold wristwatch, a camera, and a wallet containing $27 cash.

Burglars also struck at a Marin City apartment while the victim, Louis Simmons of 59 Cole Drive, was away at a relative's funeral. Carrie L. Walker, a friend, told officers she found the front door broken and open about 11:25 p.m. Sunday. Nothing was believed taken, however.

Everett Clippinger, 623 Bamboo Terrace, Terra Linda, reported money from a coin collection was taken from his home during the weekend. He said face value of the missing coins was $60, but they are worth about $150.

No forced entry was evident.

day. The planes flew from Guam, 2,200 miles away.

American spokesman said the Viet Cong in Pleiku attacked a patrol of Vietnamese mountain troops accompanied by two American advisers about a mile from the Duc Co special forces camp Monday night.

Military sources reported that one American was killed, three were wounded and two were missing after the bloody fighting Monday around the jungle outpost of Ba Gia, 330 miles northeast of Saigon. The sources said South Vietnamese losses were 29 dead, 39 wounded and 107 missing.

Ba Gia, 10 miles from the Quang Ngai airstrip, was reported quiet today after a mortar barrage before dawn. But strong Viet Cong forces were reported holding their positions in the area.

Hickingbotham Case Interlocutory Decree

An interlocutory decree of divorce, subject to filing of additional stipulation papers, was granted to the wife of Joseph C. Hickingbotham III, member of the prominent San Rafael family and grandson of the late shipping magnate, R. Stanley Dollar.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court continued the uncontested case until 10 a.m. next Tuesday for receiving the final stipulation and other documents.

His action followed testimony by the wife, Catherine M., that Hickingbotham was frequently intoxicated, returned home late on many occasions, and once didn't see their two children for seven weeks.

Mrs. Hickingbotham, the former Catherine Moretti, waived alimony, but was awarded $112.50 monthly support for each of the children, Catherine Diana, 4, and Amy Dollar, 3.

Hickingbotham, son of Joseph Cameron Hickingbotham Jr. of San Rafael, chairman of the board of Shreve and Co., originally filed divorce suite against Catherine Dec. 24, 1964, on grounds of extreme cruelty. She filed a cross-complaint—also on cruelty grounds last Jan. 18.

They wed Dec. 16, 1959, in San Rafael, and separated Nov. 14, 1964. Family residence is at 585 Kernberry Drive, San Rafael.

Heidi Dollar Hickingbotham, sister of Joseph C. III, was married only last Wednesday in a large wedding at the First Presbyterian Church in San Rafael. Bridegroom was Dr. Robert Todd Cary.

Legislators Poised For Getaway

Only one item remains on the special session's agenda — appropriating $3.4 million for a new Sugar Pine Point state park at Lake Tahoe.

After that, the legislature aims to close the books on a half year's work that resulted in more taxes, a record budget, unique new educational programs, and some of the sharpest fighting ever seen in the Capitol.

Lawmakers may return in the fall for another special session, this one to pass legislation to permit California to receive expected federal medicare funds.

Gov. Brown says he'll bring back the legislature if Congress passes the medicare bill. If he does, he may be under pressure from Assembly Speaker Jesse Unruh, D-Los Angeles, to open the session to property tax reduction and reform legislation.

Student Quartet Jailed In Dixie

EDISTON ISLAND, S. C. (UPI)—Four young people identified as University of California at Berkeley students face trial today on charges of trespassing at Edisto Beach State Park, which was closed several years ago to avoid desegregation.

The four were among 13 persons arrested yesterday. Six of the 13 were Negroes. The four students, all whites, have been participating in a Charleston area voter registration drive.

The four are Joan Marie Kennedy, 20, Santa Rosa; Bruce L. Miroff, 20, Los Angeles; Julie Ann Tinbrink, 19, Mdoesto; and Ray A. Nelson, 23, who gave his address as Arkansas.

Children Found Suffocated In Plastic Sacks

Their mother was treated at Elmhurst General Hospital for razor slashes of the wrists which police said appeared to be self-inflicted.

Police were alerted by a neighbor who heard screams from the second-floor apartment of Mrs. Adele Groy. They entered to find the children dead, apparently of suffocation, and their mother bleeding from both wrists. Her condition at the hospital was said to be not serious.

Cal Students Arrested For Beatles Episode

BARCELONA, Spain (UPI)—Two University of California students will face a court hearing this week after their arrest Saturday for a disturbance following a Beatles performance.

Ronald Kilpatric, 23, Chico, and Gary Aguirre, 24, Berkeley, were accused of assaulting two Spanish policemen who tried to stop them from dancing on top of cars after a Beatles' show here.

Chan M. Desaigoudar, 25, of 69-B San Pablo Avenue, San Rafael, suffered a cut chin when his car hit two parked cars on Merrydale Road near North San Pedro Road, Santa Venetia, at 10:40 p.m. Saturday. He was cited by patrolmen for not driving in the right lane.

Stephen L. Moskal, 20, with the Marine Corps of Camp Pendleton, was in good condition today at Hamilton Air Force Base hospital with chin and forehead cuts suffered when highway patrolmen said his car hit a slowly moving car at 9:30 Saturday on the Golden Gate Bridge.

Two San Rafael men were in satisfactory condition today at San Rafael General Hospital with injuries suffered when their car hit the rear of another at Third and B streets, San Rafael, last night.

Driver of the car, John C. Malik, 49 of 18 G Street, San Rafael, suffered fractured ribs. His passenger, Norman Dickson, 47, of 22 G Street, has a fractured righ leg and cuts on his face.

Their car ran into a westbound auto driven by Mrs. Diane A. Buzzard, 19, of 41 Clark Street, San Rafael, who police said was stopped for a red light.

Mrs. Buzzard and her 2-year-old son David were examined at the hospital. She complained of a sore neck.

In Mill Valley, Maureen S. Seestedt, 8, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Seestedt of Mill Valley, was struck by a car yesterday while riding her bicycle in front of her home at 24 Underhill Road. She was treated for bruises at Marin General Hospital.

Police said Merlin C. Roberts of 2130 Highway 101, San Rafael, told them he was driving south on Underhill Road at 4:30 p.m. when the child ran out in front of his car.

In San Anselmo, A short drive by a 16-lear-old novice motorist ended yesterday with three persons suffering minor injuries.

Treated and released from Marin General Hospital were the driver, Katherine Yanow; her brother, Seth, 11; and their father, Daniel, 49; all of 34 Sais Avenue, San Anselmo.

Police chief Raymond R. Buchignani said Miss Yonow was preparing to drive a short distance down Sais Avenue with her brother and father in the family car when she apparently panicked. The car ran into a low stone wall in front of 18 Sais Avenue.

Buchignani said the young driver had no learner's permit.

Old Church Suit Stalls Hallinan Bar Appeal

The question of whether there is a Hell and Purgatory today delayed a State Bar Assn. hearing on whether Terence (Kayo) Hallinan may practice law in California.

Hallinan, 26, was refused the right to practice on grounds that he has taken part in civil rights demonstrations and is a member of the W.E.B. DuBois Club, a so-called Marxist youth group.

Today's scheduled hearing by a subcommittee of the bar association was delayed indefinitely when one of the three committeemen, attorney Charles Prael, disqualified himself because he was involved with young Hallinan in litigation concerning the after-life in general and the nether regions in particular.

Prael is one of the attorneys representing the Catholic Church in a suit, pending on appeal since 1963, in which Vincent Hallinan, Terence's father, seeks to disqualify a will in which David S. Supple, deceased, left $200,000 to Catholic charities.

The elder Hallinan filed suit on behalf of Terence, who was acting on behalf of a relative of Supple, John Smith of Corte Madera.

Hallinan contends the church brought "wrongful pressure" on Supple, who died in 1961, by using veiled threats of "Hell and Purgatory" to obtain his money.

Soviet Economic Growth Rate Is Slowing Down

By EDWARD W. O'BRIEN
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — The Russians are not always ten feet tall. They are cut down to size this weekend in a Senate-House committee staff study showing that their economy is sputtering and is being surpassed in growth by western nations.

In 1958, the Soviet economic growth rate was 8.5 per cent a year. But in 1963, the latest year that can be analyzed, the rate was down to 2.6 per cent, the lowest in recent history.

Formerly the Soviet economy was expanding the fastest of all the world's major industrial powers. Now it is No. 7. The leaders in order in 1963 were Japan, Italy, France, Britain, the United States, and West Germany.

Our shakey stock market turns thought to the health of our economy. But our concern is tiny compared to problem of the Soviet economists, who must try to explain their system's lagging performance within Marxist ideology.

The congressional study, which is soberly factual and not argumentative, summarizes the woes of the Kremlin planners:

"The loss of economic momentum during the past three to five years has produced a mood of serious self-examination among policymakers and economic experts alike in the Soviet Union.

"By 1962 there was very little left of the buoyant optimism over economic prospects which pervaded official Soviet opinion during the mid-1950s.

"Even before the shock of the depressed harvest of 1963 had spread through the society as a whole, Soviet leaders began to voice complaints about the qualitative and dynamic aspects of their production system.

"They have complained in general about the failure of their planners and managers to make more effective use of the vast array of economic resources at their disposal.

"They have complained in particular about the declining yield in added output from new capital investment; about the all-too-slow growth of labor productivity; about the neglect of modern branches and processes of production; about the general indifference among the nation's plant managers to new, better, and cheaper materials; about the general resistance to innovation at the enterprise level; and about the deep-seated bureaucratic tendency on all levels of operation to rely on established, routine methods of manufacturing and distribution."

Before he was fired last fall, Premier Krushchev wondered aloud whether the communists were not "proving our inability to utilize technical progress." The new Brezhnev-Kosygin regime is going farther and is cautiously adopting some reforms based on highly un-Marxian ideas, such as allowing garment factory managers to plan their own operations on the basis of orders from the government's store network, instead of having all decision made by a central authority.

Another measure of the Russian economy is this:

A decade ago, Soviet planners comforted themselves with the knowledge that they had an untapped industrial manpower reserve, especially in those women who could be assigned to factory work. But now that reserve has been used up, and all those women are tending machines and sweeping factory floors. Half of the Soviet's industrial workers are women, and still the system's total output lags in comparison with the capitalist countries.

The congressional study predicts more experimentation in the next few years with novel and un-Marxian methods of economic decision-making but "no measurable improvement" in results.

The Army considers a machine lost only when it cannot be repaired and thus is damaged beyond any use.

Its public figures do not reflect the number of helicopters which are hit by ground fire, put out of action temporarily and either repaired on the spot and flown out or hauled back to a base for major repairs.

The Army said that it lost 13 of its fixed wing aircraft, mostly light observation planes, in South Viet Nam between Jan. 1, 1962 and last May 31 as a result of Communist ground fire.

These fixed wing planes flew 296,946 sorties for a loss rate in action of one plane for every 22,842 sorties flown.

Thus, as of the end of May, the Army figured its helicopters and planes had flown 998,884 sorties during the Vietnamese war. The total now is well over a million.

Princess' Husband Braves Cycle Course

DOUGLAS, Isle of Man (AP) — Lord Snowdon rode a motorcycle around the Isle of Man tourist trophy circuit today — and averaged more than 50 miles an hour.

WHERE FIRE, BLAST HIT LABORATORY

Firemen continue pouring water for hours yesterday on battered Cambridge Electronics Accelerator, Cambridge, Mass., after a hydrogen explosion caused an estimated million dollars' damage and injured at least seven researchers. Tam Board Approves Budget Of $6.6 Million

Tamalpais High School District trustees last night approved a publication budget of $6,679,700 and were told by business director Frank A. Cassou that the district's general purpose operating tax rate will probably be $1.90 per $100 assessed valuation.

This would represent two and one-half cents increase over last year's rate of $1.875. It is also the maximum operating rate the trustees can set without new voter approval. The district's total tax rate for last fiscal year was $2.17 per $100 assessed valuation.

The trustees also approved what Cassou predicted will be one and one-half to two cents override tax by agreeing to pay employee membership in either Kaiser or Blue Cross health insurance plans. This would further increase the total tax rate.

Under the new health plan, the employee's insurance will be paid by the district and he may pay for his family's coverage under the same policy.

Tamalpais High School District Trustees Also:

1. Received notice of accreditation of their three high schools by the Assn. of Western Schools and Colleges. One report of the visiting committees which recommended the accreditation suggested that Redwood High School "take immediate and stringent action to eliminate the problems of inadequate, unattractive, uncomfortable, inhospitable, accoustically impossible food service facilities."

2. Voted to drop membership in the California School Boards Assn. because the association doubled annual dues to $800 and has expressed a policy opposing unification.

3. Created a new district position, special projects assistant, to coordinate the district's vocational education project and all federal and state aid to education programs. Glidden R. Benefield, physical education teacher at Tamalpais High School, was appointed to the position.

4. Hired Peter B. Hayward of Marysville to teach social studies and physical education at Sir Francis Drake High School and Wesley M. Price of 137 Canal Street, San Rafael, as driver education teacher.

5. Agreed to take student teachers from San Francisco College for Women.

6. Adopted the courses of study, new textbooks and supplementary books for next school year.

7. Changed the district insurance plan to two large comprehensive policies with the Continental Insurance Co. The new plan will save the district $3,600 per year, Cassou said. Hartford Insurance Co. asked to be relieved of its contract to carry the district's liability insurance policy, precipitating the change.

8. Spent 20 minutes in closed session, discussing "personnel matters."

Airline Transfer Case Advances

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Civil Aeronautics Board today approved seven petitions to internene in the so-called "United-Pacific transfer case," but rejected similar petitions from six California communities and two airlines.

Granted permission to participate in the case, which involves the transfer of United's authority to serve cities in San Joaquin Valley to Pacific Airlines, were:

Greater Bakersfield Chamber of Commerce, City of Oakland, Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, San Francisco Chamber of Commerce, City and County of San Francisco, Air Lines Pilots Association, and the Defense Department.

Algerian Boss Tries For New Government

ALGIERS (UPI) — Col. Houari Boumedienne, Algeria's revolutionary chief, tried today to complete formation of a civilian government and end the crisis caused by the ouster of President Ahmed Ben Bella.

It was not known when the new government would be announced, but officials said a communique was expected shortly.

Space Scientist Wins Top Award

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Rodney C. Wingrove, 32, research scientist at the Ames Research Center, Moffet Field, has been named outstanding young man in the aerospace field for 1965.

Wingrove will receive the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics Lawrence Sperry award at the institute's honors convocation July 29 at San Francisco.

Wingrove was named recipient of the award for his part in defining guidance requirements for re-entry of spacecraft into the earth's atmosphere.

Survey Shows Goldwater Medicare Stand Downfall

BERKELEY (AP)—A University of California nationwide survey of voters in the 1964 presidentail election finds that Barry Goldwater's attacks on medicare and social security lost him the votes of millions.

Results were reported yesterday by Dr. Gertrude J. Selsnick, an associated research analyst, and Stephen Steinberg, a research sociologist. They are on the staff of UC's Survey Research Center, which hired interviewers for the study.

The survey was based on hour-long interviews with 1,650 adults.

It indicates, Steinberg said, that "any Republican who takes an opposing position on welfare programs or social security cannot win enough working - class votes to carry the election."

The survey also indicated, he said, that such a candidate would lose on such issues among the well-to-do voters.

"In order to win an election," Dr. Selsnick said, "a Republican candidate must maintain traditional Republican support among the upper classes and stage an effective appeal on noneconomic grounds to the working classes. This President Eisenhower was able to do in 1952 and 1956.

"If his election can be viewed as a model for Republican success, then it must be said that Goldwater's campaign was misconceived in its entirety."

She said Goldwater virtually ignored the "vast lower-middle and working classes" in his campaign and failed to get any significant "white backlash" vote.

The "ideological agreement with Goldwater's conservative principles," Steinberg said, "was only a token agreement. The real concern was with bread and butter issues."

Also revealed was that working-class voters were almost as fond of Goldwater's ideas as upper-class voters. This suggests, Dr. Selsnick said, "that the dilemma of the Republican Party is not that too few people agree with Republican principles, but that the party has been unable to mobilize conservative sentiment and translate it into votes."

Steinberg said the findings also led to the belief that Goldwater "worsened a popular concept that the Republican Party is the party of the rich."

Short-Takeoff Plane Announced

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP) — Fairchild Hiller Corp. said today it is beginning production of the turbo-porter 11-passenger short-takeoff airplane.

The company said the initial production run will be 100 planes and deliveries will begin next April.

The plane can carry a useful load of 2,580 pounds with a gross weight of 4,850 pounds. At full gross weight, it can take off in 360 feet and land in half that distance.

Catholic-Lutheran Talks Under Way

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Fourteen leading Roman Catholic and Lutheran theologians met here today to begin a series of talks on Christian doctrine, the first such discussions ever held in the United States between the two churches.

In closed sessions continuing through tomorrow, they planned to discuss the Nicene Creed, a confession of faith adopted by the Council of Nicaea in 325 A.D. and subscribed to by both Lutherans and Catholics.

Such theological discussions have been conducted in Europe for several years, but this marked the first time that Lutherans and Catholics have held official discussions of doctrine in this country.

Banking Czar Denies Depression Warning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal Reserve Chairman William M. Martin Jr. said today he has not predicted that a recession or depression is around the corner and doesn't know if one could come.

Questioned about his now-famous speech at Columbia University last month, blamed by some for a sharp drop in the stock market, Martin told the House Banking Committee, "I have pointed out certain things I think we should watch if we want our prosperity to continue. That is simple prudence."

Home Blaze Kills Four Youngsters

GALESBURG, Ill. (UPI) — Four children died today when fire swept their home. Exploding firecrackers in the house resounded through the neighborhood and alerted police.

The victims were Penny Lopeman, 6, and her brothers, Danny, 5; Mark, 3, and Toby 1½. All died of smoke inhalation. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Art Lopeman, were not hurt.

The family returned late last night from a vacation trip to Missouri. Police said they brought firecrackers with them.

Police Capt. Al Rowe said the cause of the fire was not known although he said the firecrackers fed the flames.

Supervisors Ask Districts To Economize

Marin County supervisors, pointing to the hefty increase in assessed valuation and their own efforts at cutting the county tax rate, today asked Chairman Peter H. Behr to write letters to all other taxing agencies in the county, asking for tight budgeting.

The letter was asked by Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker. Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said he was about to make the same suggestion.

Leydecker asked the letter go to all agencies whose budgets have not yet been adopted. He said many districts have legal tax limits which are charged in full, and this rate times the assessed valuation equals the district budget.

County auditor-controller Michael Mitchel agreed this often appears to be the practice.

Leydecker also suggested that the board take some steps to encourage the formation of a "responsible taxpayers group."

Supervisor Thomas T. Storer said it would probably be the first time in history when a taxing agency was instrumental in the formation of a taxpayers group.

He and other members agreed to invite an official from the California Taxpayers Assn. to speak before the board and interested citizens on the subject.

Kettenhofen suggested that the grand jury be given extra funds to hire a professional to help examine county operations.

The board received the fiscal 1966 assessment roll and set the first hearing on it as a board of equalization for 1:30 p.m. Thursday.

BROWN PERSISTS ON INCOME TAXES

Claims Withholding Tax This Year Could Avert Other Tax Programs

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown — indicating he'll try again for approval of withholding of state income taxes — said today that California will need new taxes next year.

Brown told his news conference he hopes the new levies will be accompanied by some property tax reform or reductions.

Brushing aside the political dangers of asking for a tax hike in an election year, the Democratic governor said that new programs approved this year will require additional revenue.

The $105 million revenue program approved by the legislature's almost completed special session, he said, was just a stopgap — one that will leave another deficit.

His announcment confirmed what his advisers had been saying when they urged the special session to approve a bigger tax program to meet next year's fiscal problems.

If the legislature had followed his advice two years ago and approved withholding of state income taxes, he said, "we wouldn't need new taxes at all."

But he conceded that many Democratic legislative leaders—"some of my closest friends and advisers" — oppose the plan.

And he said that an election year is not a time "when he can calmly discuss" a tax hike.

The governor reiterated that he thought the 1965 session was "generally productive."

He noted however, that the session was marked by increased attempts by the legislature to assume some of the executive branch's power.

He praised the legislature's staff of consultants but added there is "a tendency of too many consultants and too many cooks."

He apparently referred to the beefed-up staff of consultants installed by Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D-Los Angeles, to help the lower house to make its own decisions on big issues.

"Sometimes these consultants are brilliant young men but sometimes they have no experience in government and frustrate" solutions.

He cited the Assembly and the Senate's failure to agree with him on a joint legislative tax study — and as a result the lawmakers couldn't agree on a big tax program this year.

Assembly Democrats, he said, "had been in control a long time and began to feel their oats."

"At the end they discovered there must be more cooperation between the executive and the legislature."

Brown said he was flatly opposed to a proposed constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to return to Sacramento 30 days after the end of the session and override pocket vetoes. When the governor does not sign a bill in 30 days, it dies — killed by the pocket veto.

"I don't like it," he said about the measure by Assemblyman Robert Stevens, R-Santa Monica. It was adopted by the legislature and will be on the 1966 ballot.

"I hope it is defeated," he said. "I don't know of any governor that has misused the power."

He said he didn't know if he would campaign against the proposal, however.

Brown said he thought an $8.4 million appropriation bill for a new Lake Tahoe Park would provide enough money to purchase the site at Meeks Bay.

Business Fees May Increase In Mill Valley

Ordinances to increase business licenses and assess residents a sewer service charge instead of a sewer tax are scheduled for introduction at tonight's Mill Valley City Council meeting.

City Mgr. Bert Balmer said today he would present the proposed ordinances at the meeting at 8 p.m. in city hall.

The sewer service charge would be $1.75 per month for a single-family dwelling, collected bi-monthly.

In the past, sewer service has been included in Mill Valley's tax rate. The rate for sewers the past year was 16 and one-half cents per $100 assessed valuation. On a property with assessed valuation (23 per cent of market value) of $5,000, this would be $8.25 per year.

Balmer said the sewer service charge would be more equitable because it is related to use and not to the market value of property. He estimated the charge would raise $94,000 in this fiscal year. Sewer fees plus charges against outlying sanitary districts that use the city's sewer plan would add $45,000 more, he said.

The proposed business license ordinance would increase licenses all along the line. Lowest business license, now $36 per year, would go to $48. A licensee now paying $120 would pay $132. Balmer said the increase would mean $7,000 to $8,000 additional revenue for the city.

Mystery Fish Killer Eases Grip In Holiday

Last week, about 100 striped bass perished mysteriously off Novato Creek. Dead fish were also recently found floating off Benecia and the San Leandro Marina.

State Fish and Game officials distributed circulars requesting boaters and fishermen to report any sighting of dead fish. Other than a few small sharks off Bluff Point at Tiburon and a few "old" deal fish, no mass deaths have been reported, according to Donald Lollock, pollution bioanalyst of the San Francisco office of the department. An "old" fish, Lollock explained, is one which has been dead for more than a week and is beginning to decompose.

Cause of the large scale deaths is still a mystery. Lollock said, however, that they could have died as a result of dredging, which stirs up organic mud and causes a "depression of dissolved oxygen" in the water. Dredging operations are under way at Bel Marin Keys.

Frightened Horses Darken Milwaukee's Holiday Parade

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Four frightened horses pulling a Roman chariot lunged into a crowd of 600,000 at the height of a gay civic celebration Monday, injuring seven persons including three children.

The driver was thrown from the chariot. A horse's hoof grazed his head. Spectators, jammed 10 deep, screamed and tried to flee.

"Oh my God, my God!" shouted the driver, Herbert Onley, 52, Poynette, Wis.

A young refreshments vendor frantically grabbed for the reins of the panicked team but was thrown off. Police, Boy Scouts and circus officials raced to the scene and quickly quieted the horses.

Police said the horses went wild when only apparently slipped and pulled the reins while trying to untangle them. The horses bolted from the colorful 119-wagon circus parade, height of the annual "Day in old Milwaukee" ceremony, and plunged into the crowd.

Burglary Case Plea Delayed

San Francisco Superior Court Judge Harry Neubarth today postponed to July 16 hearing of a plea by suspended San Francisco Police officer Salvatore Polani.

Polani is accused with three other men of the attempted April 6 burglary of the San Francisco home of Sally Stanford (Mrs. Marsha Owen). Polani was to have entered plea today. The case was postponed because his attorney was not present.

Window Smashed

Dave J. Dorwald of Cagwin and Dorward Co. at 1637 Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, told police today that sometime during the holiday weekend someone threw a rock through a window of the company's building. Damage was $25, he said.

British Plane Crash Kills 43 Military

DORCHESTER, Eng., (UPI) —A Royal Air Force transport plane carrying paratroopers on a training mission crashed near here today, killing all 43 persons aboard.

An RAF spokesman said there were no survivors.

Cause of the crash of the Hasting transport plane was not immediately determined.

The spokesman said the 43 victims included both RAF and army personnel.

The aircraft had taken off from Abdingdon Airfield and was heading toward the Benson Air Base. It crashed near the Abingdon quarries, apparently shortly after taking off.

It was the second major military crash within two weeks. A U. S. Military Air Transport plane crashed June 25 in California, killing 72 Marines and a crew of 12.

Embezzlement Charge Jails Rights Leader

SELMA, Ala. (UPI) — The Rev. F. D. Reece, president of the Dallas County Voters League and a leader in civil rights demonstrations here, was arrested today on a charge of embezzling civil rights funds.

Selma Public Safety Director Wilson Baker said he signed the complaint and the city recorder's court issued the warrant.

Bolinas Utility Budget Increases

Bolinas Beach Public Utility District directors have adopted a final fiscal 1966 budget of $27,574, an increase of $6,087 above last year's budget.

Reason for the increase is for capital outlay and building improvements, reported Mrs. Jacquie Gianola, secretary. She said the board indicated that the tax rate is also expected to go up. Last year's rate was $1.29 per $100 assessed valuation.

Debate Opens On Minimum Wages

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz told senators today that 31 per cent of the 4.5 million workers the administration seeks to bring under the minimum wage law now make less than $1.25 an hour.

However, Sen. Jacob K. Javit R-N.Y., senior Republican on the subcommittee which opened two weeks of hearings on the bill today, pointed out that the present $1.25 floor means annual earnings of about $2,500.

He said everyone concedes this is below the poverty level and asked why the administration would not support a $1.50 minimum, which would bring annual income of about $3,000.

Wirtz replied that "there is no administration position of an increase in the minimum wage at this time. The president has commended it to the Congress for study."

Husband Held In Knife Threat

Abraham Henry Mitchell, 32, of Vallejo, was in Marin County Jail today for investigation of an alleged assault with a knife on his wife last evening.

Sheriff's officers said Mitchell went to a residence in the 900 block of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in Kentfield where the woman, Joyce Mae, 36, worked.

They argued about whether she should drive him to his Vallejo home, officers said, and Mitchell allegedly drew the knife and threatened her life. A passer-by notified officers. Mitchell was being held in lieu of of $750 bail.

Climate Unsuitable For Tam Bond Vote

Tamalpais High School District trustees put their collective finger to the wind last night and decided the climate during the summer does not favor bond election planning.

The trustees want cooperation from citizen groups in the district when they plan strategy for a $13,300,000 bond proposal which would finance new high schools in San Geronimo and Tiburon and completion of Redwood High School.

That type of cooperation will not likely be forthcoming during the vacation months of July and August, they decided last night.

"We want to get the community involved," trustee Gloria Melbostad said. "I guess that puts off any chance of a fall election date."

Commons Calming Down On Philip's Statements

LONDON (AP) — Political observers see little chance of the House of Commons even debating a motion to warn Prince Philip to keep quiet on political issues.

Although the motion was signed by more than 30 Laborite legislators, leaders of both the Labor government and the Conservative opposition were reported anxious to let the matter drop.

The prince, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, has come under leftist criticism at home and African criticism in the Commonwealth for counseling restraint in the argument over Rhodesia's future.

The central African colony has internal self - government and the ruling white minority shows no sign of agreeing to the British government's demands for a constitution promising the African majority control ultimately. Asian and African members of the Commonwealth want Britain to force the Rhodesian whites to accept such a constitution.

In Edinburgh last week the prince suggested that negotiations on Rhodesia's future should be taken slowly rather than "risk a blood bath and many other unpredictable results by forcing the pace."

Philip added: "I think everybody recognizes that the ultimate result (African rule) is inevitable. But I think a few years here or there do not matter if we can achieve this result peacefully and quietly."

Youthful Vandals Truly Red-Handed

An officer, investigating damage to a classroom at Oliver R. Hartzell School at Los Ranchitos Road and Golden Hinde Boulevard, found the blackboard and furniture in the room had been splashed with red paint.

When leaving the school, he noticed several young boys playing in the area.

The next thing he noticed was that three of the boys had red paint on their hands.

The youngsters, two of whom are seven and one nine years old, admitted to the painting spree after a short period of questioning. Their parents were notified.

Hoover Birthplace Proposed As Park

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover's Iowa home would be designated a national historic site under a bill approved by a House interior subcommittee.

The National Park Service would acquire about 200 acres in the West Branch area to commemorate the birthplace and burial site of the nation's 31st president.

School Chief Session

YOUNGSTERS ENJOY BOLINAS PARADE

Voting Rights Proposal Favored In Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House managers of President Johnson's voting rights bill today embraced a Senate - approved provision that would open the way to the ballot box for Spanish-speaking Puerto Ricans in New York.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the House Judiciary Committee said he would be glad to accept the amendment sponsored by Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y.

The provision would have the effect of striking down New York state's requirement that voters have the equivalent of a sixth grade education in an English language school. It would provide that a sixth grade education in any language would satisfy literacy requirements.

Celler made his announcement after Rep. William Fitts Ryan, D-N.Y., called the Kennedy amendment an "essential" provision. He urged Celler to accept the amendment.

Other congressional news:

SUCCESSION: Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen urged Senate adoption of a proposal to deal with presidential disability and succession. He said a formula worked out by House-Senate conferees came as close as possible to meeting the many contingencies.

BOXING: Former heavyweight champion Jack Dempsey endorsed proposed federal controls on boxing. Dempsey said he favored a bill by Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., chairman of the House Commerce Committee, to create a federal boxing commission and to ban broadcast of fights the commission believed we fixed or controlled by racketeers.

DIPLOMATS: The State Department urged Senate approval of an international agreement to set up worldwide standards governing privileges and immunities for diplomats.

POVERTY: Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz urged the Senate to approve an administration bill to expand the federal minimum wage law to cover 4½ million more workers.

New Algeria Government Recognized

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States announced today that it recognizes the Algerian government of Col. Houari Boumedienne which took power from ousted President Ahmed Ben Bella June 19.

"The United States government recognizes the Algerian government and considers there has been no interruption in our diplomatic relations," the State Department announced.

This action, formally ending two weeks of uncertainty on U.S. policy, opens the way for development of normal U.S.-Algerian business relations and possible negotiation of a new aid agreement between the two countries. U.S. aid in the form of surplus food supplies has been running about $20-25 million a year.

Abraham Lincoln and a business partner named William Barry applied for and received a license to keep a tavern in New Salem, Ill., in 1833.

Burglar Invades Labor Temple

A burglar climbed through a ground floor window of the Labor Temple at 701 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, last night, but got away only with a transistor radio, a roll of stamps and a letter opener.

Spencer R. Knapp of 59 Horman Drive, Novato, and Thomas P. Meeks of 1971 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, stopped a man described as between 25 and 30, of medium build and wearing a red shirt and grey baggy pants as he was entering the building. He told the two he worked in the building, and was allowed to go on his way.

Father Disowns Brawling Son

DETROIT (UPI)—The father of an 18-year-old who threw a wild rock 'n' roll beer party that turned into a brawl between teen-agers and police vowed today he will "disown his son completely."

Albert Scobie, 44, said he hoped the experience he had with his son would "straighten out some boy somewhere else."

"My boy is a hoodlum," the father said. He added that the son, Albert Jr. would be ordered out of his home as soon as he finishes a 15-day jail sentence.

Scobie refused to pay his son's $190 fine to get the boy released.

"I wouldn't pay five cents to get him out," he said.

Police had to break up the party at the Scobie house when neighbors complained a three-piece band and the 80 youths Scobie invited to the gathering were making too much noise last Saturday.

Loss Of Fuel Lands Puff Plane Short

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (UPI) One of the planes in the women's 19th annual Powder Puff Derby encountered fuel problems near here today and had to land in a north Georgia field, a derby spokesman said. No one was hurt.

Mrs. Shamburger said the plane "refueled in Savannah and the girls didn't notice the trouble until they were almost here."

She said the Cessna is a "high-winged plane and because of the configuration of the plane, the girls couldn't see the gas tank caps.

"One cap came off somewhere and the gas was siphoned out."

The copilot was Harryette Barker, La Puente, Calif.

Gasoline will be sent to the plane and it probably will be flown into Lovell, Mrs. Shamburger said.

Most of the contestants in the 19th annual derby were expected to finish the 2,400-mile race here today.

Seven Farm Laborers Die In Truck Mishap

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Seven transient farm laborers were killed and nine others injured last night when they were strewn down a highway from a careening pickup truck, the highway patrol said.

It took hours to identify the dead. Six of the men died at the scene and the seventh perished at a county hospital, officers said.

The dead were identified as Millard L. West, 43, of Lindsay; James Goode of Lakeport; Doyle Lee Morris, 35, of Oklahoma City, Okla.; Deep Rivers, 31, unknown address; Walter Lee Babb, 47, unknown address; Manuel Patrick Souza, 37, of Pleasanton, and Edward Casper of Elk Grove.

Raymond E. Maruffo, 43, of Broderick, was hauling the group to a farm labor camp on Del Paso Road, the patrol said. Maruffo was not seriously hurt.

The truck went out of control, struck a utility pole and ricocheted off objects down the highway, six miles northwest of Sacramento.

Painters Signing Interim Contracts Despite Strike

Marin County painting contractors today continued to sign individual interim agreements with Painters Local 83, bringing to "considerably more than 20" the number of firms signing in spite of the Bay Area-wide strike, according to union sources.

An estimated 8,000 painters throughout the Bay Area have been on strike since last Thursday. Of these, some 450 are members of the Marin local. Local 83 officials declined to reveal the exact number of Marin firms who have signed.

Harry Bigarani, secretary of Painters District Council 8, said no immediate negotiations were scheduled. Representatives of the Painting and Decorating Contractors Assn. were holding strategy talks today in San Francisco. Clarence Dunleavy, business mananger of the PDCA, was unavailable for comment.

Painters have not set up picket lines, but are following a "no contract, no work" policy.

Park Exit Plans To Be Dropped

Application for a vehicle exit through the Corte Madera town park will be withdrawn by the Park Madera Center developers at the Corte Madera Town Council meeting at 7:30 p.m. today.

A public hearing on the planning commission's denial of the application was scheduled by the council.

Action on a request for street improvements on Upper Sausalito Street and formation of a special assessment district for San Clemente Creek, requested by the Mariner Cove Improvement Assn., will be considered.

61-Unit Motel Plan On Tiburon Agenda

The Tiburon Planning Commission will meet at 8 p.m. today at Del Mar School to consider Louis Britt's plans for a 61-unit motel, cocktail lounge and coffee shop and a small office building on Tiburon Boulevard near the fire station.

Also on the agenda are plans of Fred G. Zelinsky for a 10-unit hotel, dining room and bar on Main Street near Beach Road.

Design Board Due Auto Bazaar Plan

A special meeting on an application for approval of designs of an auto bazaar between the Edgewater Inn and Madera Village on Tamal Vista Boulevard in Corte Madera will be held by the Corte Madera board of design at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the town hall.

Applicant is Kelly Buchanan of San Francisco.

Supersonic War Games Thursday

The Strategic Air Command and Strategic Air Command and North American Air Defense Command will stage a joint training exercise over parts of California, Arizona and Nevada at Hamilton Air Force Base announced today.

The one-day exercise, labeled Hopi Chief VII, will bring increased air activity over much of Northern California tomorrow evening.

An Air Force spokesman said many of the planes may attain supersonic speeds and residents in the training areas can expect sonic booms.

Hub Caps Stolen

John J. Curtin of 62 Culloden Park Road told the police last night that four hub caps valued at $25 were stolen from his car, parked next to his house, sometime early Sunday.

Sinking Cruiser Saved By Joint Fire, Guard Force

Belvedere and Tiburon firemen and coast guardsmen combined forces Sunday night to save a 28-foot cabin cruiser from sinking.

The boat made it to Tiburon, taking on water through a three-foot gas line below the water line, and pulled into the floating dock at Sam's Anchor Cafe at 8 p.m. Firemen from both departments used pumps to clear the boat of water and coast guardsmen applied a patch, then towed the craft to Sausalito for repairs.

Tiburon firemen reported that Adam, another man and two women aboard the boat were uninjured.

LEGISLATURE HIGHLIGHTS

Two Major Liquor Measures Passed

By EDWIN S. CAPPS
(Second in a series)

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The blank spots that market the accomplishments of the 1965 session of the California legislature on most important areas were filled in on the matter of liquor license issuance, with substantial changes made.

Of the many businesses regulated closely by the state, however, this was about the only field where major changes were made.

The lawmakers passed two important bills dealing with liquor licenses. One, SB808 by Senator Luther E. Gibson, D-Vallejo, would freeze issuance of any new on-sale or off-sale licenses between now and Oct. 1, 1967.

But, during that moratorium period, licenses could be transferred between counties, insofar as the population quotas permitted. Counties now are permitted one off-sale general liquor license for each 2,500 residents and one on-sale license for each 2,000 residents.

Because of rapid growth in some areas, and a rather stable population in others, some counties could have up to 200 more licenses and still be within the quota. In such counties, the going price for licenses runs up to $50,000, while the state's original fee is only $1,000.

Other counties, on the other hand, are saturated with licenses that were issued 30 years ago. Licenses in these counties bring only a few hundred dollars on the open market.

The theory of the Gibson bill is that, during the two-year period of no new licenses, the supply and demand for licenses might be levelled of by the flow of licenses from the saturated counties to the counties with big demands for new licenses.

The other major liquor bill passed was SB529 by Senator Hugh M. Burns, D-Fresno. This bill removes the present prohibition against issuance of a license to a premises within 200 feet of a premises operating under a similar license.

The department of alcoholic beverage control, in supporting the Burns bill, said it had other means of preventing overconcentration of licenses. Meanwhile, the department said it had many technical or competitive protests over issuance of licenses that would be eliminated if the 200-foot rule were dropped.

The big controversy in the 200-foot rule has been between existing package liquor stores and the big super markets and drug stores moving into shopping centers in the rapidly growing suburban areas.

In other fields where the state has strong regulation over industries, less action was taken. A series of proposals to tighten issuance of charters or licenses to banks and savings and loan associations was sent away for further study. The proposals would have set up three-member commissions to issue the licenses, rather than having them issued by the superintendent of banks or savings and loan commissioner, as is done at present.

The legislature also shied away from tightening any laws covering topless bathing suit shows or scantily clad waitresses in bars. This subject too was assigned for a thorough study between now and 1967.

No action was taken either on a number of alternative proposals to tighten laws covering sale and distribution of pornographic materials.

How Estate Claims Made

THE DECEASED DEBTOR

When someone who owes you money dies, the law calls for you to present your bill to his estate. Often the widow or another heir will pay the debts, though they are still the estate's. Unless the heirs agree to pay, they owe you nothing.

A solvent estate will pay your claim. Otherwise, it waits until "priority claims" are paid. Or you may have to take a pro rata partial payment.

The law calls on the estate's executor to publish notice for creditors to make their claims within six months. If not they are forever barred, except such claims as those for taxes.

Claims must be in writing and verified, often supported by a voucher. The executor reviews the claim. He may say the estate will pay if it has enough money. He may also reject some or all of the claim. If he does not pay all the claim, the creditor may sue and let the court decide what is due.

The executor may also compromise claims.

The decedent's estate may have assets that are exempt from creditor's claims such as proceeds from life insurance or a homesteaded residence. The heirs may, but need not, waive the exemption.

The law gives priority to a widow's allowance, to costs of administering the estate, to medical and funeral expenses, tax claims, and the like. General creditors come next. After the claims have all been allowed, rejected or settled, the estate can then begin to distribute the rest to the heirs.

Labor Disputes Still In Doldrums After Holiday

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — About 10,000 West Coast machinists still were on strike today after a holiday weekend with no conciliation talks.

No negotiations were reported among the striking shipyard machinists, or between the construction industry and striking cement masons, painters and plumbers.

Five small Bay Area shipyards reportedly settled with the machinists with a contract providing a 50-cent hourly increase.

About 800 members of the International Brotherhood of Boilermakers were observing the picket lines, according to business manager Ed Rainbow.

China Coastal Buildup Reported

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — Communist China has "very recently" started a new massive military buildup along the coastal area opposite the Nationalist-held offshore island of Quemoy, military intelligence sources said today.

The sources say that Communist troops in unprecedented strength are now converging on the coastal province of Fukien.

However, Nationalist military authorities have not reached any conclusion whether the reported Red military buildup is of a defensive or offensive nature.

Tenderland Has New Owner; Probert Now Has Rootes Cars

A new owner has taken over the Tenderland meat outlet at 647 Irwin Street, San Rafael and will have "open house barbecue" Saturday.

Stanton Berde of East San Rafael is the purchaser and new operator of what is now called Tenderland Meat Sales for Lockers, Inc. He is a former commercial pilot and for several years was an automobile finance department manager for Crocker-Citizens National Bank in San Francisco.

Tenderland's regular hours are from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. everyday except Sunday.

STOCKHOLDERS LISTEN

Stockholders attending a recent Pure Oil Co. meeting in Columbus, Ohio, cup their ears to hear what's being said by the speakers. Fewer than 200 stockholders showed up for the session at which a merger of Pure into Union Oil Co. of California was approved—mostly on the votes of mailed proxies. No objection to the merger was raised. (AP Wirephoto)

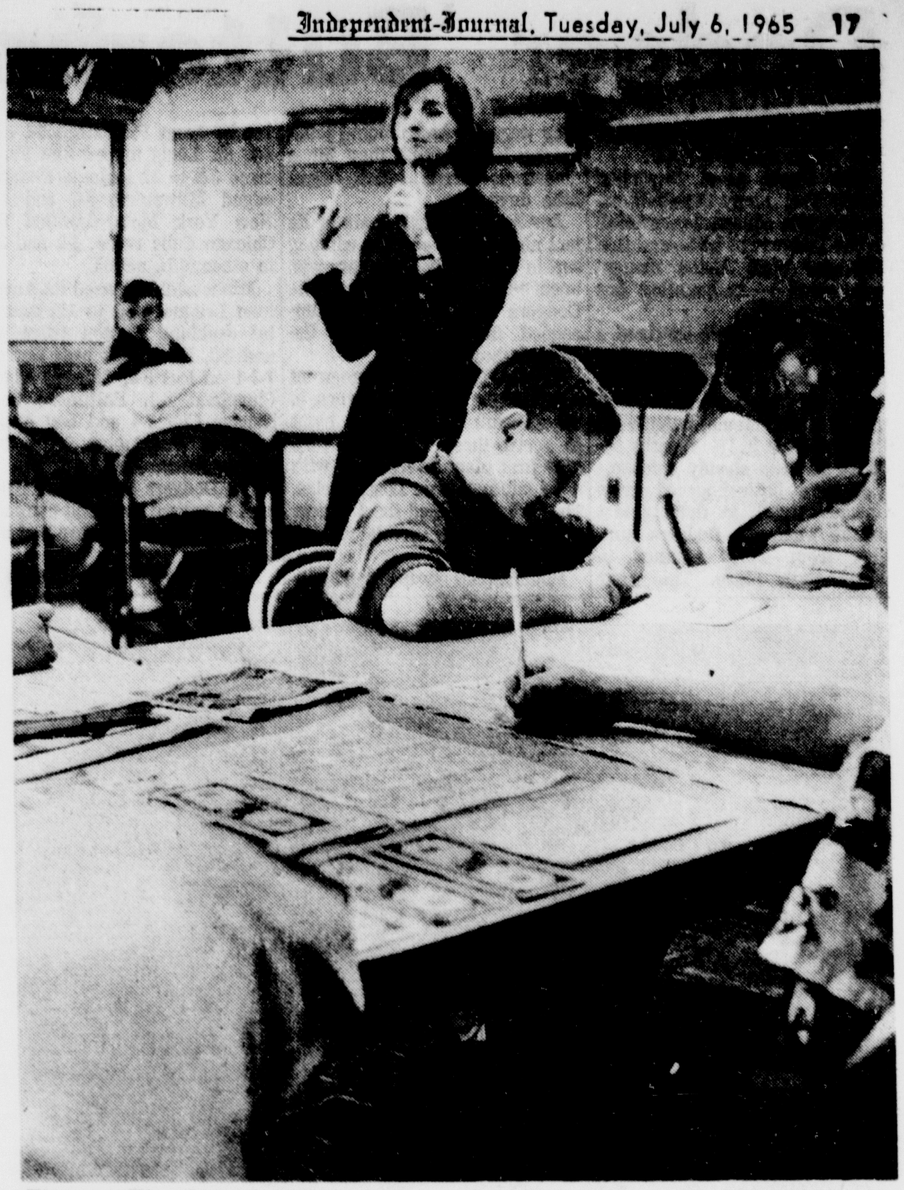
STEADY THERE—Jeffrey Holmes of Marinwood wields the saw while George McNamara of Lucas Valley steadies the sawhorse. The boys are constructing buildings for a "community" in the first grade of summer session at the Mary Silveira School.



Eleanor Eisenberg explains some facets of the stock market while her eighth grade pupils at Mary Silveira School check daily quotations in the newspaper. Children "buy" and "trade" stocks, and will see if they can make a "profit" on the market by the end of the five-week summer session.

Elementary School Pupils Get Chance To Study Economics

By DOROTHY SIMPERS

In a summer session classroom of Mary Silveira School in Marinwood, first grade children are building a "community" from crates and pieces of wood, with stores and houses peopled by pipe-cleaner "residents."

In a second grade room, children sit on the floor, play with wooden toy trucks and ships and miniature baskets of goods—and ponder the importance of the wholesale market.

An economist asks a sixth grader: "What are profits?"

"You buy something from a company, and sell it for more if you have a store of your own," is the boy's answer.

Eighth graders gather around tables, each with a handful of paper money, "buying" and "selling" stocks, talking of seats on the exchange.

Third graders study the economic impact of San Francisco Bay and harbor on Marin—and whether the county could be self-sufficient.

All 300 pupils in grades 1-8 in the Dixie School District's summer program at Silveira School are being introduced to economics, as part of their social science studies.

The summer school is also a workshop and demonstration school for Sonoma State College summer session, and new methods of teaching economics are being tried out.

Sixty teachers, mostly from Marin, are participating in the workshop and demonstration school. There is a staff of 13 teachers and eight interns from San Francisco State and Dominican colleges. Penrod Moss, district curriculum consultant, is director.

Participants in the program also have an opportunity to try out what they learn in Dixie's other summer schools: Hoffman, Don Timoteo, Santa Margarita and Lucas Valley.

The idea of introducing economics to elementary grades developed from a county meeting last March with Dr. Vernon Ouellette of San Francisco State, who is director of the Northern Council for Economic Education.

The council, a non-profit group concerned about getting more effective economic education to public schools, provided a $1,000 grant to Dixie District to supplement the economic education part of social studies. Marin County schools are co-sponsoring the program.

Moss stressed that the district was not trying a "crash program," but wanted to heighten children's and teachers' awareness that some of the things they have been doing and studying have economic implications.

He is hopeful that what is learned by teachers in the experimental summer program will become part of the regular school curriculum.

The approach to teaching economics, and other subjects, too, is a problem-solving one, rather tional materials—kits for teaching magnetism, microscopes for all children, weight and pulley system materials, relief maps—all based on the concept of getting the child to try things, instead of just having the material in front of a classroom.

A child is put into a situation where he has a real problem to solve, can hypothesize solutions and test them. There are "no inherent answers" in any of the materials, Moss noted.

Why learn economics at such an early age? A child becomes familiar with the concepts by living them, feeling, touching, handling them. Later, when he reaches the stage of dealing with these same ideas in words, they are real and familiar to him from these early studies, Moss explained.

First graders are working with special materials, developed by Dr. Lawrence Senesh, professor of economic education at Purdue University, and called "Our Working World."

The program is organized around lessons with such titles as "Getting to Know the Family," "How Do Families Produce?", "Tools and Machines," "Transportation Is Needed," "Why Some Incomes Are Low and Others Are High," "What Happens When People Buy All That Is Produced?"

The materials include records, and picture books to be viewed by the children as they listen to the records. Both are used as stimulants for discussions.

The Senesh program utilizes what most teachers are familiar with, but helps them to see the depth to which they can explore a subject, Moss said. While the program centers on a series of economic concepts, important ideas from other social sciences are also part of the study.

Eighth graders studying the stock market will hear a talk by a broker, study daily market quotations, "buy and sell" stocks, and at the end of the five-week session will see if they have made any "profit." The group also will visit the San Francisco Stock Exchange.

In the third grade, pupils are learning about the occupations of Marinites who work in the greater Bay Area—and asking the question: "Can Marin suport its own population?"

They will learn the reasons for development of a harbor, and what is shipped in and out. They will compare San Francisco harbor with the man-made Los Angeles harbor, and study why it had to be built.

Straw Hat Revue Ready To Open

This year's show entitled "Here We Are Again, Again," will run Wednesday through Saturday nights until Labor Day. The production is directed by Betty Fuller and Elizabeth Berryhill and will involve a total company of 40.

Tomorrow's opening night has been designated "Festival Theater Day," by the Marin County Board of Supervisors, "for the purpose of honoring the past, present, and future participants in the work of this organization."

The supervisors have also designated July as "Festival Theater Month."

Tests Of Sick Skunk Fail To Show Rabies

Tests by the Marin County Health Department have ruled out the possibility that a skunk shot Wednesday by a San Rafael policeman was rabid.

Dodger 'Butterfingers' Throw Away N.L. Lead

By GEORGE C. LANGFORD
UPI Sports Writer

The single most important factor that many baseball experts argue caused the downfall of the Dodgers in 1964—and that Manager Walt Alston thought was cured — is haunting Los Angeles again.

The Dodgers have survived a multitude of injuries to key players and an anemic offense, but today they were out of first place in the National League for the first time in two months because of their shoddy defense.

Alston's butterfingered crew finished eighth in fielding last season when the Dodgers tumbled from world champs to share sixth place. This year they were the best fielding team in the league until they hit a disastrous streak which began nine days ago.

Los Angeles has lost six of its last nine games and the winning run in four of those defeats was unearned by the opposition. The Dodgers coughed up four unearned tallies in one of the other losses.

Cincinnati took advantage of two Dodger throwing errors in the seventh inning last night to score three runs and take over first place in the N.L. with a 7-4 triumph over Los Angeles. The defeat dropped the Dodgers two percentage points behind the Reds.

Philadelphia swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh 3-1 and 6-2, St. Louis topped San Francisco 3-2 in 12 innings, Houston edged Milwaukee 5-4 and the New York Mets defeated the Chicago Cubs twice, 3-2 and 3-0 in other N.L. action.

Minnesota increased its American League lead to 1½ games by drubbing Boston twice 6-2 and 2-0, New York beat Detroit 7-2 then lost 5-4, Chicago edged Cleveland 3-1, Baltimore beat Kansas City 7-4 and Los Angeles beat Washington 5-2 in the opener before losing 4-3.

The Dodgers have given away nine unearned runs and committed eight errors in their last six setbacks.

A single by Leo Cardenas (one of his three hits) began the decisive rally for the Reds. Winner Jim Maloney followed with a sacrifice bunt and when losing Dodger pitcher Bob Miller threw late to second, the Reds had two on.

Tommy Harper also bunted and when Miller threw wildly past third, Cardenas scored the winning run, breaking a 4-4 tie. Pete Rose's sacrifice fly scored Maloney and Harper tallied when centerfielder Willie Davis threw wildly into the infield.

Lou Johnson homered and starting pitcher Nick Willhite drove in three runs with a bases - loaded double to account for the Dodger scoring.

Jim Bunning fanned 10 and yielded only five hits in the Phillies opening game triumph. Ruben Amaro singled in a run and Alex Johnson homered for another in the Phillies attack off loser Bob Veale. Dick Stuart hit his 15th homer in the nightcap and Ed Roebuck and Gary Wagner blanked the Pirates in relief as the Phils beat Wilbur Wood.

Richie Allen, the Phils third baseman and co - leader in the batting race with Willie Mays, was booed continuously through the game by the Philadelphia fans. He was involved in a fight with Frank Thomas Saturday, and Thomas later was placed on irrevocable waivers by the Phils.

Rookie Ron Swoboda belted his 14th and 15th home runs, driving in all but one of the Mets tallies in the doubleheader sweep of the Cubs. Swoboda's first - game homer with two on foiled Dick Ellsworth's bid for his eighth consecutive win. Ellsworth and reliever Lindy McDaniel did not allow a Met runner to reach base after the first inning.

Tom Parsons shut out the Cubs with six hits in the nightcap for his first victory as a starting pitcher. Larry Bearnarth was the winner in relief of Warren Spahn in the opener.

Walt Bond's perfect squeeze bunt scored Joe Gaines with the winning run in the ninth inning to deal the Braves their 13th loss in the last 17 games. The Braves had rallied from a four run deficit to tie the score in the eighth on home runs by Joe Torre and Hank Aaron. Jim Owens was the winner and Bob Sadowski absorbed the loss.

Marichal Zeroes In On 14th Win

Faces Cards Tonight; Giants Drop Marathon

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Manager Herman Franks is calling upon San Francisco pitcher Juan Marichal to deliver more shutout salvation.

The hurler from the Dominican Republic (13-6) was to start against the Cardinals' Curtis Simmons 4-8 in tonight's contest at St. Louis.

The Cardinals defeated the Giants 3-2 in 12 innings Monday. The San Francisco team thus remained 2½ games behind Los Angeles and Cincinnati, now tied for the National League lead.

Franks was hoping today for another fine pitching performance from Marichal. The slick hurler has posted six shutouts this year. He blanked Chicago 4-0 in his last game July 2 and helped the Giants win a series with the Cubs, two games to one.

Cardinal Curt Flood proved the Giants' undoing yesterday when he drove in the winning run with a single to left in the 12th inning. The Cardinals' win streak was extended to six games.

Gagliano had opened the Card rally by beating out a tap down the third base line for a single. He was sacrificed to second.

With the Giants leading 2-1 in the eighth, center fielder Matty Alou lost a Card fly ball in the sun. It proved one of the crucial plays of the game.

The hit by Lou Brock fell in for a triple. Ken Boyer's infield hit drove Brock home and tied the game.

Willie McCovey hit his 18th homer of the year in the fourth inning off St. Louis starter Ray Washburn. McCovey totaled the same number of homers last year.

St. Louis tied it 1-1 in the fifth on a single by Jerry Buchek which drove in Boyer.

San Francisco went ahead in the sixth. Dick Schofield singled, Matty Alou bunted for a hit, both advanced on McCovey's infield out and Willie Mays was intentionally walked. Jim Hart then hit into a force play, sending in the go-ahead run.

In the seventh, Card pinch runner Bob Gibson tried to score from second on Dick Groat's single to right but was cut down by Mays' throw to the plate.

San Francisco shortstop Dick Schofield stretched the game out with a sharp fielding play in the 10th inning. Flood had opened with a single. Schofield made a diving stop of Boyer's slasher behind second and, while on his stomach, flipped the ball to Hal Lanier just in time to force Flood.

MARIN GOLFERS SHOOT FOR NEW SPEED MARK

A four-man team at Peacock Gap Country Club, San Rafael, will be out to break its golf relay speed record tomorrow.

The team, under the direction of head pro Ron Patten, completed 18 holes of golf in 32 minutes and 25 seconds, scoring 78, on June 15.

Teeing off at 2 p.m. tomorrow will be assistant pro Paul O'Kane, who will hit to Bob Yaezel. Waiting on the green will be Don Hawken who will putt out and then toss the ball to Mike Kelly waiting on the second tee. This will continue for 18 holes in a fast game of golf on the par 71 Peacock Gap course.

The four golfers are calling their time a "world's record," and are confident of beating their previous time.

Buhl Asks Cubs To Trade Him

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitcher Bob Buhl asked the Chicago Cubs to trade him immediately because Head Coach Lou Klein, "just hasn't got any confidence in me," Chicago's American reported today.

Buhl, 36, told Jim Enright, the American's baseball writer:

"I never had any words with Lou, but I simply can't pitch for a man who hasn't any confidence in me. I felt the same way about Birdie Tebbetts in Milwaukee, and that is when I was traded to the Cubs. Now, I feel the same way here (Chicago).

Buhl came to the Cubs from the Braves on April 30, 1962, in a swap for pitcher Jack Curtis. The right-hander has a current 8-6 record with two complete games in 18 starts.

Enright's story quoted Buhl saying his demand to be traded came after Klein yanked him in the Cub-San Francisco Giant game in Chicago Sunday.

"The climax, as far as I'm concerned, came Sunday in Chicago," Enright quoted Buhl. "This time I was out of the game with just one out to go in the fifth. In the process of getting the first two outs, Willie Mays and Jesus Alou reached base on a pair of infield scratches.

"Now, he's (Klein) out there to get me, while I'm trying to tell him I'm still okay. I had good stuff, but it didn't make any difference, I was gone. That is why I want to be traded. The man just hasn't got any confidence in me."

With the score tied 4-4, Buhl was replaced by Lindy McDaniel, who took the Cubs' eventual 7-4 loss to the Giants.

HIS 14TH TIME

Mantle Selected On All-Star Team

BOSTON (AP)—Three Minnesota Twins and three New York Yankees were among nine picked for the 1965 American League All-Star team today by Manager Al Lopez of Chicago.

The Yankees, shut out in the balloting for the starters in the annual All-Star clash at Minnesota July 13, will be represented by catcher Elston Howard, second baseman Bobby Richardson and outfielder Mickey Mantle.

This was the 14th All-Star selection for the ailing Mantle, making him the senior on the team announced by American League headquarters.

Chosen to join Minnesota's Earl Battey, the starting catcher selected in a poll of A.L. players, coaches and managers, were shortstop Zoilo Versalles, first baseman Harmon Killebrew and outfielder Jimmy Hall.

Also named by Lopez were third baseman Max Alvis of Cleveland and outfielders Al Kaline of Detroit and Carl Yastrzemski of Boston.

As the All-Star manager, Lopez must also name the pitching corps—to be announced Friday.

Lopez followed the choices of the poll, and all those named were runners-up in the balloting, except Mantle.

Al Kaline's selection was his 11th, putting him next in line to Mantle to longevity honors. It will mark the ninth appearance for Howard and the sixth for Richardson.

Alvis is the only selection who will be making his first All-Star trip.

Selected as starters in the players poll, along with Horton and Battey, were first baseman Moose Skowron of Chicago, second baseman Felix Mantilla of Boston, third baseman Brooks Robinson of Baltimore, shortstop Dick McAuliffe of Detroit and Cleveland outfielders Vic Davalillo and Rocky Colavito.

Since all 10 A.L. teams must be represented on the All-Star squad, Lopez must select pitchers from Kansas City, Washington and Los Angeles among his eight choices.

Health Problems Plague British Open Favorites

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) — The word went out today among the ranks of the world's greatest golfers:

"Watch out for the walking wounded. They'll beat you."

A half dozen of the top stars in the field of 130 that has gathered for the British Open are complaining of health problems of one sort or another.

Arnold Palmer, who won the Open on Royal Birkdale's 7,037-yard par 73 course four years ago, wore a turtle neck sweater against chill winds which might further damage a sore throat he has been bothered with for several days.

Bruce Devlin of Australia had such a bad throat he even had it X-rayed in case there was some foreign body lodged there. It wasn't.

Kel Nagle, fellow Australian who was runner-up in the U.S. Open this year and won the British Crown at St. Andrews in 1960, had a sore back.

So did Bob Charles of New Zealand, the 1963 champion.

The Birkdale Club lined up a local physiotherapist to tend them.

Defending champion Tony Lema of San Leandro, Calif., breezed in yesterday, back to his playing weight of 175 after he started smoking again to reduce from 195.

But Lema recalled a stomach upset he had last year in England and said "I hope that doesn't show up again."

Gary Player, the little South African who won the American Open three-weeks ago, said he was pleased that the winds were blowing in off the Irish Sea.

"My hay fever, you know," he said.

Everybody in the star studded field seemed able and willing to have something wrong with them, except Jack Nicklaus, who is the 3-1 favorite to win his first British Open, the only major championship that has eluded the Golden Bear.

"I'm fine," he said with a big smile. "And I'm desperate to win this one."

In his tuneups for the 72 hole medal play which starts tomorrow and ends Friday, Nicklaus had a special look at the 468 yard par-4 sixth hole.

"It's the worst hole," he said. "It's all right for power hitters like myself, Palmer and some others and I can play it. But it must be powered."

That may be the hole where the Open is won or lost. There usually is one like that.

The first prize of $4,900 is only chicken feed to the big golfers. But the winner gets a shot at the four-man World Series of Golf with a $50,000 first prize. As Lema, who did that double last year said, "It's worth a lot more than that."

An Open Letter To Cassius Clay

All right, Miss Higginbotham, let's take a letter today to Cassius Clay, the Caliph of Kentucky. Cassius? Oh, he's the fist-fighting champion of the world. Just address it to Mecca in care of God.

"Dear Mahatma:

"A thousand pardons for interrupting your generaling the world but if you have a minute, I'd like to show you how the world looks from down here among the peasantry.

"In the first place, you'll have to excuse me for addressing you as 'Cassius.' I know you wrapped a towel around your head a couple of years ago and joined the Ottoman Empire but I keep forgetting how many 'a's there are in 'Muhammad.' Besides, when I first got to know you — when you were just a friendly kid down at the Main St. Gym getting ready to fight Alejandro Lavorante — I knew you as 'Cassius.' Don't feel bad. My sisters still call me 'Brud.'

"You were a nice kid in those days, Cash. Had the world's fastest left hand and larynx. You put a little fun in a savage game. What happened? I noticed something funny about the last few times: You never laugh. Why?

"THE ONLY reason I'm writ-

— the people who think you REALLY licked Sonny Liston. There's you and me and some little guy up in the Aleutians whose short wave broke down during the singing of the National Anthem.

"They've practically torn my epaulets off me as a sporting writer for suggesting you won fair and square, Cassius. Know why? Because nobody WANTS to believe you could win.

"KNOW WHOSE fault that is? Yours. For one thing, that disgraceful episode of standing over a fallen man and threatening him and snarling at him. That's unworthy of a champion, Cassius. In fact, It's unworthy of an athlete. It's schoolyard bully stuff. If you want to see how a champ behaves when he knocks somebody down, go see some Joe Louis movies.

"I THINK I know why you

The FISHIN' FOOL

I-J Fish and Game Writer

Trout For The Stay-At-Homes; Sports Fleet Crying The Blues

STEVENS

The stay-at-home trout fishermen will be happy to know that the following coastal waters are scheduled to be restocked this week with catchable sized trout—by counties: Lake — Anderson Creek, Upper Kelsey Creek; Marin—Lagunitas Reservoir; Mendocino — Cleone Creek; Monterey—Big Sur River; San Francisco—North Lake Merced, South Lake Merced; San Luis Obispo — Lower Nacinlento River; San Mateo—Pescadero Creek; Santa Cruz—Corralitos Creek, Fall Creek, San Lorenzo River.

I have no specifics for what has happened or is happening in the vast number of areas being fished in the high country, but to judge by rumors and stream conditions there should be a very good report coming through. Most waters are prime, there may be a thunderstorm in some sections, but as this is being written blue skies predominate. To the north, in Humboldt and Mendocino counties, production should be especially mentioned. In the South Fork of the Trinity below Forest Glen, silver salmon to eight pounds have been landed, and plenty of rainbows and browns have been creeled.

I NOTE by the scattered reports that one of my favorite areas, Grace, Macumber and Nora lakes, have been yielding limits. So, if you still have to take that trout trip in the hinterlands and the high country, better get going. It won't be very long before many of the present waters will be too low and too clear for any but the experts.

A BRIEF survey of the local waters and the ocean is either good or bad depending upon geography. The sport-fishing salmon fleet reported fishing very spotty with a few boats making the grade but the majority crying the blues. For example: Caruso's harbor at Sausalito reported the Marion, on Saturday, netted 11 salmon to 15 pounds, the Corinne had 8 to 28 pounds off Point Reyes, and those boats were high for the fleet.

FOR THE local inland spots, China Camp reported one 17 pound bass caught by a boat trolling near the Sisters and other boats in the same sector were reported getting some nice fish trolling on the ebb tides the past week. But, at least five avid anglers are content with their catches—same being sturgeons ranging in size from 47 inches to a top of 65 pounds. Alice Quan reported the five lucky anglers as Glen Stump, August Frank, Bill Parker, and S. and Paul Winder.

SAD TO relate, the trolling that seemed to be wide open in the Upper San Pablo Bay gradually thinned out and then just about quit cold. Could be, however that, after the present or recent series of minus tides, new schools of stripers will make for some fast and fancy trolling.

JOE WUN of the Sportsmen's Center called to report Angelo Hernandez and Tony Barness outboarding to the Angel Island area and landing one 11½-pound halibut and one of 35 pounds. And here are beaucoup congratulations to Tony Castro who trolled near the San Leandro Marina and brought in a nice striper of 28 pounds, 6 ounces.

Fists Fly In Legion Ball Game

In a game marked by a free-for-all fight in the fourth inning, first place Vacaville shellacked third place San Rafael 11-0 yesterday at Vacaville in Fifth District American Junior Legion Baseball League action.

The result gave Vacaville a 10-2 won-lost record and dropped San Rafael three games off the pace at 7-5.

Players from both sides engaged in a spirited wrestling-boxing-pushing tussle in the fourth inning. The melee started when San Rafael batter John Forry accidentally let the bat fly out of his hands onto the infield. When the Vacaville first baseman retrieved the club and threw it into the San Rafael dugout—with considerable energy—the fracas started. When the dust had settled and umpires finally restored order, three players were ostracized.

NO INJURIES

"It was a typical baseball fight," said San Rafael coach Don Lucas, "no one was injured. Just a lot of wrestling and shoving."

Forry returned to bat later and again the bat "accidentally" slipped from his hands. He, too, was sent to the showers, Lucas said.

San Rafael was limited to four hits—singles by Ken Lampert, George King, Bill Lee and Bob Lombardi — and was similarly inept afield, committing six errors.

Starting San Rafael hurler Ben Burch gave up only two hits in the first four and two-thirds innings, but errors gave Vacaville five unearned runs. Mike Ainslie and John Clifford followed Burch to the mound.

San Rafael treks to Rodeo tomorrow for a 5:30 p.m. non-league game.

TENNIS, ANYONE? MARIN JUNIOR TOURNEY SET

Deadline for entry in the 12th annual Marin County Junior Tennis Tournament, sponsored by the Independent-Journal and San Rafael Parks and Recreation Department, is July 14 at 5 p.m.

The tournrey, open to boys and girls up to age 18, will be held July 20 through 24 at the Albert Park courts in San Rafael. Competition will be in both singles and doubles. Entries should be sent to Joe Rodota, recreation director, at the San Rafael City Hall. Entry blanks, appearing in the I-J, should be clipped and filled out.

The I-J is donating 16 first place trophies, 16 second place trophies and 24 dozen tennis balls.

Letter To Cassius From Jim Murray

did it, Cassius. Fear. Sudden release from fear when that terrifying monster suddenly hit the floor paralyzed. It sent you into an emotional binge. Lots of things do. Fear is nothing to be ashamed of. Dempsey knew fear. Most fighters do. As a trainer once pointed out, an animal is not dangerous unless afraid. You can tweak a lion's tail unless he's afraid of you. Dignity is the control of fear, the mastery of gloating. You can afford to be humble when the other guy can't get up.

"A wise man once told me a man's first crusade is hard on him, Cassius. Okay, but yours is over. Liston, your private mountain has been climbed. You've turned the light on and that thing you were scared of turned out to be just a shirt hanging over the door. So, forget it. How about a little champion behavior? How about making this thing look like great theater instead of Amos'n Andy? Shakespeare instead of the Ritz Bros.?

"A MAN'S religion and politics are his own business, Cassius. UNTIL they start putting a dagger to MY throat — tell people I'm evil because of the color of my skin. Then it's everybody's business. We went through that, Cassius. The last guy who preached that kind of religion and politics ended up in a bunker and the only way they could tell it was he was by his teeth. Everything else was a char. But he took 10 million people with him. He was in the middle of the biggest pile of ashes the world has ever seen. He turned a continent into a crematory. One of him was enough.

"You've taken to moralizing in your press conferences, Cassius. So, if you don't mind, I'll take the rostrum for a minute. 'You know about fear,' you yelled at us up in Lewiston. 'You made the Negro live in fear all his life.' Well, there are 200 million people in this country, Cassius. And one hundred million, nine hundred, ninty-nine thousand of them never got in a bedsheet after dark in their lives except to sleep. I never even saw a burning cross and I hope I never do.

"YOU NEVER brought the Negro nothin' but terror,' you said in Lewiston. Well, in case you flunked history, Cassius, why don't you take your camel down to Gettysburg some Sunday? Why don't you walk through the thousands of war memorials in the middle west and New England on your way through in your pink Cadillac? You'll find several hundred thousand white kids did a lot for the Negro. Look in any graveyard.

"So, it was 100 years ago and it was over cotton, you say — or your brown-suited friends say for you. Don't let anybody tell you a guy will die for cotton. You don't fight wars over cotton. You fight them over emotions. You die for freedom and justice, not a cash crop.

"TERROR IS a two-way street,Cassius. Lynchings take place in Central Park, too, Cassius. That's the trouble with vengence. You always get even with the wrong guys. I'll make a bargain with you. Don't think of the white man as a guy with a hemp rope in one hand and a tattoo 'Love Thy Neighbor" in the other; and we won't think of the Negro man as someone who made a public park unsafe after dark. You don't judge society by its dregs.

"WELL, I'LL close my Sermon for today, Cash. Sorry to bend your ear but I don't know any other way to get the message through that cordon of brown suits around you except by sky writing. Those buddies of yours who are going to make the trains run on time.

"IT'S YOUR move, Cassius. It's your championship. As you go, so goes boxing. As you go, so go 10 million kids. It's YOUR link to posterity. I don't care if boxing dies tomorrow. In fact, they might dust off the old Ring Lardner line and paraphrase 'Boxing Died Today With A Great Saving of Life.'

Give my regards to Brother Sam and the rest of the guys back at the bunker.

Yours
Mr. Charlie

Snell's Legs 'Dead'

LONDON (UPI) — Peter Snell, New Zealand's running great, said today his legs are going dead on him when he's running.

"It is not a physical weakness, so much as a muscular one," the Olympic champion told newsmen.

Snell has been beaten twice in the last few days. He finished seventh in a mile at London's White City Stadium Saturday and third in Dublin last night—but each time he was under four minutes.

He will race in Prague at the end of the week.

FOUR MINUTES

"I am running in under four minutes regularly in practice now," Snell said. "I am certain that my legs will come all right soon. I think I shall be running well again before long."

Snell has said he intends to retire after his present world tour.

He is out to regain the mile blue ribbon from France's Michel Jazy, who last month bettered Snell's listed world record of 3:54.1 with a time of 3:53.6.

245,064 ATTEND HOLIDAY GAMES

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Holiday attendance figures for both the National and American League swelled yesterday as thousands of baseball fans celebrated Independence Day at major league ballparks.

The largest crowd of the day was at Detroit where the Tigers split a doubleheader with the New York Yankees before 40,153. Last year, the Tigers played a single game against Washington on Independence Day and attracted only 8,481.

Over-all, American League attendance totaled 126,688 compared to 96,324 last year. There were three doubleheaders — one a day-night affair at Minnesota — and two single games this year compared to four single games and one doubleheader in 1964.

The National League's top crowd was 35,900 at Shea Stadium in New York where the 10th place Mets swept a doubleheader from Chicago. Los Angeles drew the largest crowd of the season to Crosley Field where 29,047 watched the Reds climb past the Dodgers into first place in the NL.

Even Milwaukee, troubled by slim crowds in the Braves' final season there, managed 7,775 for the holiday, pushing total National League attendance for the day to 118,376 for two doubleheaders and three single games. Last year 109,346 watched five single games in the NL on Independence Day.

Nicklaus Fires 65

SOUTHPORT, England (AP) —Jack Nicklaus, the reigning Masters champion, fired an eight-under-par 65 today in a final practice for the Wednesday opening of the British Open Golf Championship and then remarked:

"I'm still not completely satisfied."

The husky blond bomber from Columbus, Ohio, is the 3-1 favorite to be at a star-studded international field and capture the only major championship to elude his grasp so far.

The field of 130 will start off with single 18 hole rounds over the par 73, 7,037 Royal Birkdale course on Wednesday and Thursday. Then the survivors of the cutoff will play the final 36 holes on Friday.

FORMER DRAKE PREP SIGNS WITH CUBS

Joe Decker, former Drake High School baseballer, has signed a professional contract with the Chicago Cubs of the National League for a "substantial" bonus and a clause stating the Cubs will pay his way in college.

Decker, a pitcher, finished his senior year at Petaluma High School where he was a star for the Trojans, compiling a 3-2 record and 1.00 earned run average. He struck out 119 batters in 84 innings and walked only 24.

Decker, who stands 6 feet and weighs 170 pounds, was the Cubs' 10th draft choice.

Johnny 'Boc' Slumps To .239 Average

John Boccaoella of San Anselmo remained in a slump and hit safely only four times in 27 at bats as his average dropped 10 points to .239 in his last week's action for Fort Worth of the Texas League.

He had five runs batted in for the week, according to Player Periscope of Novato, to run his total to 50.

Gerry Ard of Fairfax, shortstop for Cocoa of the Florida State League, batted 2 for 11 in the past week to raise his bat mark to a still anemic .135. He has 5 hits in 37 at bats on the season.

Ron Cole of Mill Valley, right-hander for Durham, N.C., of the Carolina League, pitched only one inning of one game during the week as his record remained 3.0. His earned run average is 2.81.

North Cal Race Tracks Join TRA

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Three Northern California race tracks, Bay Meadows, Golden Gate Fields and Tanforan, joined the Thoroughbred Racing Associations of the U.S. Inc., yesterday.

TRA president Edward P. Taylor made the announcement after a meeting at Hollywood Park. He said the agreement was unanimously reached by president Joseph Cohen of Bay Meadows, President Joseph Blumenfeld of Tanforan and vice president Kjell Qvale of Golden Gate Fields, acting for president Roger Lapham.

The membership will take effect next Jan. 1, but TRA officials said the organization will assist the three tracks in their fall meetings and give full cooperation at once.

Neil J. Curry, member of the California Horseracing Board and former chairman, characterized the move as "a great forward step for Northern California racing and one that will assure better racing and resultant benefits to all California horsemen and racing fans."

The Southern California tracks Hollywood Park, Santa Anita and Del Mar have been members of the TRA for some time.

SHAKESPEARE FESTIVAL SALUTED IN BRITAIN

The mayor of Stratford- on-Avon, birthplace of William Shakespeare, has proclaimed July 14 Marin Shakespeare Festival Day in his borough.

Mayor Geoffrey Derek Innes' salute to the fifth annual festival, which opens next Wednesday at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross, was the first proclamation of its kind issued in over 500 years, according to the Shakespeare festival promoters.

The mayor said the quality and merit of the Shakespeare festival's productions have been honored throughout the United States and it "has done much to interest, influence and educate both young and old alike in the works of William Shakespeare."

Police Officer Gets Sympathy

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Telegrams from throughout the nation are pouring into police headquarters in sympathy with a police lieutenant who officers say shot a man he believed to be one of a gang that raped his daughter.

Officers said Lt. Thomas E. O'Neal, 41, fired three shots into Carl E. Norman, 21, Friday in a Los Angeles police station in the belief that Norman raped his daughter, Shirley Dianne, 19.

Norman was booked on suspicion of possession of marijuana but subsequently was exonorated of any involvement with the rape. He is reported in serious condition at Los Angeles County General Hospital.

Lt. O'Neal has been suspended from the force and faces arraignment Thursday on a charge of assault with intent to commit murder.

Among those volunteering aid was Louis F. Melson, a member of Mayor Samuel W. Yorty's advisory council.

O'Neal is free on $3,300 bail. His $1,000 monthly salary was halted when he was suspended and friends say he faces major medical bills for himself and his daughter.

Sixteen men have been arrested in connection with the attack.

Chief of Detectives Thad Brown said the victim identified two suspects "but collapsed after making these identifications."

Vatican Held Puzzled Over Luci's Baptism

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times reported today that the rebaptism of Luci Baines Johnson, the President's younger daughter, on her conversion to Roman Catholicism has roused puzzlement and some regret in Vatican circles.

The Times said in a dispatch from Rome that Vatican sources were assuming that the rite was a "conditional baptism." In cases, in which a priest may doubt the validity of an original baptism, he pronounces the "conditional" formula, which begins "If you have not been baptized, I baptize thee...."

Miss Johnson was baptized as an infant in the Episcopal Church.

To question the validity of baptism in any Christian church is contrary to the currently accepted practice of the Roman Catholic Church, statements of Pope Paul VI, the will of the Ecumenical Council and the rulings of the Holy Office, the Times said.

The Times reported from Washington that the Rev. James Montgomery said he followed the laws of the church in rebaptising Miss Johnson. Father Montgomery told the Times Miss Johnson requested the ceremony because she wishes in conscience to be sure she was meeting the requirements of the Church.

Dominican Mortar Fire Hits Rectory

SANTO DOMINGO (UPI) — Scattered gunfire in the streets Monday night and the reported wounding of three Dominican churchmen climaxed a day of military maneuvering in this embattled city.

A spokesman for Col. Francisco Caamano Deno's rebels said two Roman Catholic priests and an altar boy in the rectory of Las Mercedes Church were wounded by fragments of three mortar shells fired into the rebel-held square mile of Santo Domingo about 7:30 p.m.

NO REPORT

The rebel spokesman said the shells apparently were fired from positions held by Maj. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera's junta government north of the internationally-guarded security corridor across the city. The church is a block from rebel headquarters.

A spokesman for the predominantly - American force which patrols the security corridor said it had received no report of the mortar attack. He said Nicaraguan troops of the international force exchanged about 20 rifle shots with rebel snipers at about 7:35 p.m., causing no known casualties on either side.

The rebel spokesman denied knowledge of the shooting in the Nicaraguan sector, although he said it "might have broken out as a result of hearing mortar shells exploding in the (rebel-held) downtown area."

VEIN NICKED

He said the teen-age altar boy, whose jugular vein was nicked by a shell fragment, is in serious condition in Padre Billini Hospital. The two priests were released following treatment of less serious fragment wounds of the face and neck, in the vicinity of the rectory re the rebel spokesman said.

He said fragments collected in the vicinity of the rectory resembled those found after a similar shelling a month ago which the rebels said killed a woman and a child. Inter - American investigators determined at the time that the fragments found after last month's attack were from 81-mm. Mortar shells manufactured 30-odd years ago in France.

Cluster Puzzle Latest Twist

A Chicago firm has come up with a tiwst on the familiar jigsaw puzzle. One puzzle in a series, for example, is made up of 34 animal shapes. The trick is to fit the animals, by their shapes alone, into the one and only interlocking arrangement. Don't expect the shape of the puzzle when completed to be rectangular like a regular jigsaw puzzle. You'll have a complete, recognizable picture, but it will be cluster shaped. Thus, the name of the game, "Cluster Puzzles."

Who Should Drive The Family Boat?

By GAY PAULEY

Yes, if the child is trained thoroughly in operation of the craft and the rules of the water, says one authority on marine safety. No, he says, if the child thinks boats are for hot-ruddering as cars are for hot-rodding.

ROBERT SOUTHWORTH, author of manuals on safety on the waters, said that each year about this time, as vacations get into full swing, some four million boat-owning parents are faced with a decision on whether a child should be permitted at the wheel—alone.

STATE LAWS offer little guidance, said Southworth, because most states have no minimum age for youngsters soloing in power craft. New York is the only state with a minimum age for boat operators. He said children under 14 may drive alone, only if they've passed a four-hour course in boat handling.

Southworth, a Navy veteran and father of two small children, for 15 years has been involved in safety programs for his firm, the Mobil Oil Co. and is author of the company's current "Safety Afloat."

He said that in the past five years he has talked informally with some 300 parents who DO permit their children to operate the family boat. Not one of the children has been involved in any boating accident. Most of the children are 13 to 16, although a few are as young as 10 years.

"A CHILD'S AGE is not necessarily a measure of his ability to operate a power boat," said Southworth. Some parents said they permitted 10 year olds to go out alone in small boats equipped with 10 horsepower outboards in good weather. But the children had first received hours of instruction, then putted around in lightly traveled waters and wore life preservers if not good swimmers.

On the other hand, said Southworth, some 16 year olds aren't to be trusted behind the wheel. "It's a matter of temperament and training," he said, "and parents must be the judge."

SOUTHWORTH listed these safety tips for boat owning parents:

DON'T ALLOW the child to go solo until you're thoroughly satisfied he knows the essentials of boat and motor handling.

A CUSTOM-MADE LOOK

Fabric can solve innumerable decorating problems as in this bedroom where the entire wall behinds the beds was covered in a bold black and white print of Celanese Acetate and rayon as a background for the beds and dressing table. The well-fitted bedspreads are ready-mades in a Celanese fabric which is quilted, wrinkle-free and easy to put on and take off. The dramatic color scheme of black, white, gold and melon was chosen by the designer, John Bachstein, A.I.D. to give an air of distinction to a room that would serve as a bed-sitting room, even though the room is of average size.

Belvedere Tourney Will Include Full Round Of Activities

In the three years since its inception, the Belvedere Tennis Club's Junior Tennis Tournament has become the largest junior tournament in Northern California, according to J. Paul Wilkins, club professional, who is director of play. Some 400 registrations are anticipated for this year's event, scheduled for July 12 to 16, and the meet which attracts most of the top junior players in the state and some from other western states also offers a mammoth challenge in hospitality.

MRS. DICK DE BERRY, hospitality chairman, has planned a full program of festivities for the young players, who range in age from 10 to 18. On July 12 an open house will be held at the Belvedere Tennis Club. July 13 a rock and roll orchestra has been engaged for dancing from 7 to 10 p.m. July 14 there will be a barbecue at the club, Melvin Gautier in charge of a dozen volunteer patio chefs. After the final matches on July 16 an award ceremony will be held.

HOUSING IS provided for the juniors who are coming from long distances to take part in the matches. Mrs. John Hoffer reports 60 homes available in the Belvedere-Tiburon community for the youngsters. Some who have opened their homes for this purpose are members of the tennis club, but many are not, says Mrs. Donald Furlong, publicity chairman.

"They may be people who are interested in tennis, or who are interested in helping the young people who put their effort into the sport," she said.

ONE OF THE factors that makes the Belvedere Tennis Tournament so popular with the juniors is the opportunity to sail on the Belvedere Lagoon when they are relaxing between matches. Mrs. Harvey Rogers will make her dock on the lagoon available to the young athletes and has arranged, with the help of her assistant, Mrs. William Lang, for a number of small boats for the visitors to use during the week of competition.

Tennis courts of other organizations and private homes have been put at the disposal of the Belvedere Tennis Club to permit the large number of entrants an opportunity to compete during the alloted time. The Tiburon Peninsula Club, Mill Valley Tennis Club and College of Marin have offered their facilities. Courts of the Thomas Flemings on Belvedere Island, the David Winslows in Paradise Cove, and the Russell Keils at Keil Cove will also be used for tournament play.

G. M. "BUD" HOWARD and Frederick Supple are co-chairmen of the tournament; Charles E. Auerbach, originator of the tournament, is honorary chairman.

FAMILY ACAPULCO BOUND

John, Holly, and Reed Eastman have bottles of soda pop and life savers as they join their parents, the Paul Eastmans, on the deck of the Arcadia at San Francisco harbor for a voyage which will take them to Acapulco. The Corte Madera family also plans to visit Mrs. Eastman's parents who live in Oaxaco, Mexico.

Little Head Coif Strikes Note Of Sleek Hairstyles

Hairstyles follow fashion, and the designers discovered that the little head coif is most becoming with their new creations. The neat, shaped hairdo complements the total look of easy elegance.

Gone are the long, flyaway, untamed tresses. They are unsuitable today for even casual clothes because these fashions too, strike a note of distinction, more appropriate with a chic, well-managed coif.

The short, sleek hairstyles are carved and sculptured, curving at sides and back with ends just folded under. For these smooth coifs the hair needs body to hold the line and to give a set real staying power.

New Coffee Pot Agitates Grounds

MALDEN, Mass. (UPI)—A new coffee pot makes twice as much coffee per pound as the conventional percolator, the inventor reports.

In DellaPiana's coffeemaker, which can be adapted to fit inside any coffee pot, the grounds are agitated from side to side by water pressure. Thus the essence of the coffee grounds is extracted directly.

In contrast, says DellaPiana, the common percolator has a basket, and when water drips through the grounds, it tends to pack them together so that many particles are never touched by the water.

Special Bouquets, Best Wishes To Bayview Grads

It is customary after graduation exercises to extend to the new graduates best wishes for all possible success as they "step out on their own into the cold, cold world."

It is customary to call the graduates' attention to the fact that graduation doesn't mean they have finished, but that they really are just starting. Commencement is the word that is emphasized.

Sixty-six of the men received high school diplomas. Sixty-three received elementary diplomas. The 60 certificates were for vocational training or college correspondence course work.

Of them it can truly be said they learned the hard way. And having learned the hard way, we would expect them to have learned lastingly and well.

Graduation ceremonies at the prison this year had some new features. The graduates wore caps and gowns in which they were photographed. (The gowns were loaned by College of Marin student body. The bill for picture-taking was underwritten by the San Rafael Kiwanis club.)

Families and friends of inmate graduates were admitted to the ceremonies for the first time. The prison's glee club and band both performed — "remarkably good performances," said I-J music critic Maybelle Speckmann, on hand for the occasion.

State Department of Corrections records indicate that a high proportion of California's convicts have little or no formal education; their lack of education seems to be one of the deficiencies that helps to head them toward prison.

Those who take advantage of the educational opportunities in the institution thereafter will have a much better chance of making good on the outside when they are released.

In this sense, graduation day at the prison is even more of a commencement than it is for younger graduates on the outside.

No More Lawn Mowing

A newly developed chemical which retards the growth of grass may be on the market for home use soon. By blocking cell-division this chemical eliminates the need for frequent mowing of the lawn.

It is said to work particularly well on hedges and shrubs. However, no simple method of application has yet been found for this chemical, so Papa or Junior will have to continue to push the mower for a while longer.

But the day may not be far off when Marinites can spray their lawn once a year and then forget it.

SACRAMENTO SCENE

This Year's Budget Strategy Just Means New Taxes In '66

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The so-called "victory" of the Brown administration in its tussle with the State Legislature wasn't really a victory at all but merely a "face-saving" operation for all parties concerned.

One thing now appears inevitable. This is bigger and better taxes for the citizens of California in 1966.

ALREADY BURDENED with a tax load which in effect is confiscatory, the taxpayers face nothing but an increase next year as the result of adoption of the acceleration clauses in the next tax law adopted by the Legislature at its special session last week.

UNDER THIS NEW law, approximately 5 per cent of California's businesses will pay their sales tax monthly instead of quarterly. The smaller businessman will not be affected; he will continue to pay on a quarterly basis.

The law means that the state will collect approximately $90 million during the next fiscal year, which normally would not have been paid until the subsequent fiscal year.

IN A WAY, THIS is something like a family which spends its income before it is received, without knowing how to provide additional income to make up the void in the future.

The state is in a slightly better position than is the family. The administration and the Legislature know how they will make up the void. The process is simple: Merely vote new or increased taxes, and burden the taxpayers with even greater loads.

ALREADY, THE RUMOR is out that the Brown administration is planning to reimpose all or most of the excise tax cut by the federal government.

Such a move, if ever approved, would mean the additional burden of millions of dollars for the California taxpayer. The burden, however, would probably not be as great as the insult. Federal excise taxes were cut by Congress as a boost to business, and to reimpose them would drive business away from the state, with consequent losses in employment.

Also, there will be another big drive next year for an additional tax on cigarettes. The added six cents a pack just escaped being enacted by the special session. It escaped despite a last-minute plea by Governor Brown for at least some increase on this consumer levy. It was halted through the efforts of Speaker of the Assembly Jesse M. Unruh. Through his efforts, Unruh scored his own victory at the special session over the governor's forces.

DURING THE ENTIRE session, no organized move was made to determine how state expenditures could be cut through efficiency or elimination of unnecessary services. It's much easier to vote new taxes.

Greyhound Drivers Cited For Safety

Four Marin County bus drivers have been cited by Greyhound Lines for driving more than 100,000 miles without an accident.

Receiving the safety award were: Rolf N. Stormer, of 1044-A Los Gamos Road, San Rafael; Delbert C. Sanford, of 49 Blossom Dr., San Rafael; Hymen Pollack, of 47 Tamalpais Ave., San Anselmo; and Louie B. Pfaff, of 57 Laura Lane, Fairfax. Each of the drivers has achieved a 20 year safety record.

Peering Into Future Of African Issue

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Re: Negro scientists sent from the United States not being allowed to work in South Africa.

I wonder if, when the black South African can no longer stand "brutalization without representation" and rises up in his war for liberation, and the present leaders tell us that the blacks are "Red," and we send troops to quell the revolution, as we are doing in Viet Nam, will the Union of South Africa accept our Negro G.I.s or will they accept white troops only to defend their great society?

Impounded Dog Could Have Lived

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Perhaps each side could have done more to save a friendly dog's life (I-J, June 29).

Other counties make every effort to contact owners of identifiable strays, even holding the dogs extra days while awaiting answer to registered-mail notifications. The extra work pays off.

However, when a dog is allowed to roam without license tags, it is tantamount to telling a four-year-old child to go play in the middle of Highway 101. Owning a dog entails the moral responsibility of making the pet identifiable, as well as the legal responsibility.

As a dog fancier myself, I cannot understand why anyone should let dogs roam unsupervised, even if there is no leash law.

Dominican Ex-President May Seek Office Again

By PHIL NEWSOM

EVER SINCE bushwhackers assassinated the late Dominican dictator Generalissimo Rafael Leonidas Trujillo on the night of May 30, 1961, U. S. policy toward the Dominican Republic has been marked by curious twists and turns.

Not the least curious were the efforts by which the United States helped to install Maj. Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera as head of the republic's current junta regime and now seeks to get him out.

Imbert himself is a curious figure, since he was one of the slayers of Trujillo and before the U. S. change of heart had been under considerable U. S. suspicion for his own political ambitions.

Balaguer has been living in exile in New York and his role in current maneuverings still is to be disclosed.

IT APPEARS noteworthy that, on a trip presumably to be at the bedside of his ailing mother, his chief interest appears to be political. At whose behest and on whose side also remains open to speculation.

He became Dominican president in August, 1960, upon the resignation of President Hector Bienvenido Trujillo Molina, brother of the dictator.

As an intellectual, a diplomat and former university president, he was considered a man without political ambition. His rise to the presidency generally was attributed to an attempt by the Trujillos to improve their image abroad and still mounting criticisms of the increasingly harsh dictatorship.

With the assassination of the generalissimo, his son, Lt. Gen. Rafael Trujillo Jr., moved to take his place, assuming the title of chief of staff of the Dominican armed forces.

HE CONTINUED there some six months later when the younger Trujillo packed his bags and departed to live in Europe on money frugally stashed away in international banks. The sum has been estimated up to $200 million.

The sadly harassed Balaguer and the United States were caught between two fires.

The United States had supported Balaguer against an abortive Trujillo attempt to regain power and thereby had drawn down upon itself a charge of "gunboat diplomacy."

On the other hand, there was Balaguer's own unpopular position as a holdover from what he himself described as "three decades of political savagery."

U. S. policy vacillated between a show of force to no policy at all. Before Trujillo's assassination, it broke with the Dominican Republic but continued to buy Dominican sugar.

Through a general strike and political chaos it supported Balaguer and then was forced to see him depart.

NOW IF Balaguer is to return, the clock will have gone full circle.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A DOCTOR with an enormous practice sneaked off from his office occasionally to seek a bit of relaxation cantering along astride his favorite horse. In a moment of inspiration, he named the horse "Consultation." This enabled the nurse to explain to patients, "I'm sorry, but the doctor is out on Consultation."

"SO YOU'RE a locksmith, eh?" grumbled a judge as he peered over his glasses at a mousey little man cowering before the bench. "Then, pray tell me, what was a locksmith doing in a gambling den when the vice squad made its raid?" Answered the mousey little man, "If it please Your Honor, it's very simple. I was making a bolt for the door."

WHEN LITTLE Pete returned home from camp, his admiring parents asked him if he had been homesick. He won their hearts by declaring, "Not ME. Some of the kids were, though — the ones who had DOGS."

RIDDLE-DE-DEE:

Q. What do they call a country that has only pink automobiles?

A. A pink car-nation.

Q. What's a small dog suffering from chills?

A. A pupsicle.

And, of course, you know what one balloon asked another: "Whatcha expect to be when you blow up?"

Johnson Has Success At Home, Big Foreign Policy Troubles

WASHINGTON (AP) — As President Lyndon B. Johnson heads into the last half of 1965 his record can also be split in half: very successful at home; a lot of unfinished, dangling overseas business that leaves the world wondering.

HIS POPULARITY at home is high, the polls say. Overseas he has been criticized for his handling of foreign affairs, particularly in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic.

He hasn't shown yet the same masterful talent for foreign affairs that he has demonstrated repeatedly in domestic problems.

His relations with Congress, business, labor, and civil rights groups have been excellent and tranquil. In getting Congress to do what he wants he is well on the way to the best record since President Franklin D. Roosevelt's early days.

HE TALKS A LOT, sometimes moralizing, sometimes in platitudes and sometimes in a way unmatched by any president, as in a recent speech expressing his compassion (a favorite word of his) for the Negro.

The astonishing energy he has shown in working at his job always has raised the inevitable question: How long can he keep it up?

There is a broad mystification about what to expect in foreign policy where Johnson plays the cards very close. For example: In six months how much deeper might the United States be in the Vietnamese war?

WHEN HE WENT to San Francisco last week to address the 20th anniversary meeting of the United Nations he got a lukewarm reception although the reason is not clear.

Some of the restraint among the statesmen listening to him may have been intended to express disapproval of his foreign actions, some may have been out of disappointment that he didn't come up with new ideas and programs.

President John F. Kennedy, at his death but not in his first few months as chief executive, had a far more shining image abroad than Johnson. But this was after he got off to a bad start by backing the Cuban refugees' disastrous invasion of Cuba.

YET, KENNEDY'S policy basically was not much different from Johnson's—except for the bombing of North Viet Nam.

Johnson has been criticized for intervening in the Dominican revolt, a reminder to Latin Americans of the many times this country intervened in their affairs before. They couldn't tell whether they were looking at the beginning of a similar era under Johnson.

KENNEDY HAD been slowly building up American forces in Viet Nam. It's useless to try to guess now what he would have done eventually if confronted with the situation Johnson faced: Growing conquest by the Viet Cong and steadily developing chaos in South Viet Nam which, without American help, would have collapsed long ago.

There have been scattered, but comparatively few, critical voices against Johnson in Congress. Will this last?

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Barry Wooing Brace Of Splinter Groups

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Former Sen. Barry M. Goldwater is riding two entries in the cavalcade of splinter organizations springing up within the Republican Party.

While National Chairman Ray Bliss and other party chiefs are sharply deploring this disquieting fragmentation, the 1964 presidential candidate is now on record as heartily favoring two splinter elements.

IN ADDITION to being honorary chairman of the Free Society Assn., Goldwater also has given his blessing to the lately-formed American Conservative Union, headed by former Rep. Donald Bruce of Indiana, in a letter that ACU directors plan to publish at their meeting here later this month.

Republican insiders view Goldwater's embracing of these two separate groups as motivated by the desire to remain the foremost conservative in the party.

As chairman, Bruce expressed it:

"IT IS NOT the purpose or function of the ACU to replace or compete with existing conservative organizations. It is to be separate from, but to work with, the many fine conservative organizations at the national, state and local levels. Our intent is to deal with issues. We aim to influence, not to dominate."

ACU leaders are indicating they are seeking a "vigorous new conservative standard-bearer," and mention Rep. Melvin Laird of Wisconsin, chairman of the House GOP Policy Committee; Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif.; Sen. Peter Dominick, R-Colo., and Ronald Reagan, movie star and prominent prospect for governor of California.

The American Conservative Union already has 7,000 members and $170,000 in its treasury, with another $500,000 pledged.

The ACU office in Washington is fully staffed and going full blast. Immediate principal activity is vigorous support of the fight against the Johnson administration's bill to repeal Section 14(b) of the Taft-Hartley labor law, empowering states to enact right-to-work laws. Ammunition prepared by Prof. Sylvester Petro of New York University Law School is being made available to opponents, regardless of party.

While no decision has been made on the New York mayoralty candidacy of liberal Republican Rep. John Lindsay, ACU insiders are betting their organization will declare against him.

WHAT STAND will be taken on William Buckley Jr., conservative candidate, will be determined at the directors' meeting.

10 YEARS AGO

E. J. Lindstron, a Butte County school administrator, was named superintendent of Mill Valley School District, succeeding Roy Laugesen, who resigned to be assistant superintendent of Tamalpais High School District.

David Wilson, 13, of Santa Venetia was the "I-J Newsboy of the Month."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By THERON NEWELL

City Budget Should Be Clear; Have We Forgotten Our Own Flag?

DURING THE BUDGET session of the Novato City Council last year, then City Administrator (he's since been made manager) J. Julien Baget stated:

"The purpose of a budget is not to be clear."

He more than proved his point this year. Baget prepared two versions of the budget. One was very detailed and itemized. The council, manager and finance officer received these copies. There is a shorter version which the press and public received.

This makes it impossible for members of the audience or the press to follow the step-by-step discussions of the council on the items in the budget. Not until they reach a final figure for one category do the others find out what the discussion has been all about.

SEVERAL MONTHS AGO, during the discussion on putting utility wires underground, it was pointed out to the Novato City Council several times that the cost of street lights would be cut in half if the city owned the poles. At that time, there was a question on city policy of having the subdivider install the utility poles and then give them to PG&E. PG&E then charges the city the double rate for owning the poles.

In the budget discusson on street lights the other night, Mayor Robert D. Carrow asked whatever became of this policy which he thought the city had adopted. Lawrence A. Coleman, director of public works, said that none had been dedicated since, but that he would check into it.

This may be another policy, similar to the reduction in tax rates for areas that have structural firefighting equipment that the City of Novato pioneered for the rest of the county. If a subdivider installs a utility pole, why shouldn't he give it to the city instead of the power company and save the taxpayer half the cost of the street light on it?

EFFECTIVE LAST WEEK, there was one less school district in Marin County. This happened with the unification of the San Jose and Novato unified school districts.

Outwardly, there is no noticeable effect. The two districts have come together so quietly that there is scarcely a ripple on the surface for either the teachers or students. By this time next year, we'd wager that there will be no feelings of individuality between the two districts, so complete will be the merger. Probably the only noticeable difference will be that San Jose Intermediate School will be San Jose Junior High School.

After a few years of working with the rest of Novato, perhaps in four or five years, Loma Verde will be ready to annex and become a part of the larger community of which they are geographically.

MANY TIMES DURING, and several times since the big Western Weekend parade, we received comments on the lack of respect paid to our Colors during the parade.

A generation ago, the parading of the flag down the street brought off all the men's hats. People stood at attention. The flag, and the country which it represented, drew forth the patriotism in every person.

During the two and a half hour Western Weekend parade, some color guards almost had to stop because rude people cut right in front of the flag as they crossed the street. The Novato police and a very few others in the crowd stood at attention.

We feel that a whole generation is growing up without any respect for our national emblem. We don't like it. We can see nothing to be ashamed of in being a part of the greatest nation that mankind has ever developed. Sure, we have our faults, but they are fewer than most other places on earth.

We would like to see schools teach more patriotism and less criticism of this country. Perhaps once again they would not be ashamed to have students memorize Henry H. Bennett's poem that says:

"Hats off! . . . The flag is passing by."

Nature Group Slates Annual Supper Show

The annual Marin Nature Group potluck supper will be held Friday at 6 p.m. in the redwood grove at the College of Marin in Kentfield.

Members will show slides taken on trips made during the year by the group at 8 p.m. in room 40 at the college, according to Lillian Ross, president.

MORRIE RYSKIND

Let's Call Moratorium On 'Professional' This, Thats

FROM J.W.P., WHO identifies himself as a retired teacher: "Blame this one on the late show, which I rarely see. But I'm a Fred MacMurray fan, so I stayed up the other night to watch him in a whimsical variation of the Aladdin's lamp motif entitled 'Where Do We Go From Here?' Since the credits listed you as co-author of the story and the scenarist, you may be interested to know I graded it as a B plus—but then I was always parsimonious with my A's.

"The combination of the picture and your columnar writing—which I agree with in the main—prompts me to ask: suppose, through some two-fold miracle, you were made captain of the Ship of State and came into possession of the lamp and the genie offered you three wishes—where would you direct America to go from here?"

It is a heavy burden you would put on me, sir, and I'm not certain whether it's the miracle you pronounce it or a hex. For it is one thing to flaunt the braid when the sea is calm and the sailing smooth and passengers eagerly vie for the honor of sitting at the captain's table. But it is another when the waves are high, fire is breaking out in a hundred places and dangerous shoals are ahead—when the passengers are panicky and some of the crew threaten mutiny. Frankly, I don't like your timing.

BUT OUR FAMILY motto is "Noblesse oblige"—we got it wholesale through an aunt who lives in Paris—and I am not one to shirk my responsibilities. I realize that the Communist threat in Viet Nam, Santo Domingo and Cuba will not be overcome by some lofty rhetoric delivered at a university and that de Gaulle will not cease his intransigence because I am photographed only on my left side or send him one of the 40 pens I use to sign any state document. (John Hancock, they tell me, used only one in signing the Declaration of Independence.)

And I am aware that such domestic difficulties as the depletion of our gold reserves and the staggering national debt cannot be solved even by such stern measures as turning out the White House lights and issuing statements saying things were never better. And there are matters like the startling upsurge of crime and the demoralization of the police force by incessant charges of brutality that will not fade away if they are not mentioned.

WHICH OF THESE issues would I tackle first? None. I have not yet decided on my second and third wishes, but I know what I would unhesitatingly ask from the genie first:

A moratorium on the blatantly self-righteous communiques from the "professional" WASP, (White Anglo-Saxon Protestant) the "professional" Catholic, the "professional" Jew, the "professional" Negro—those bigoted loudmouths who proclaim all virtue resides in their particular group alone and who automatically see evil in those who differ as much as an iota subscript with any stance they may take. And that goes double for "professional" politicians who feed on and cater to these and similar blocs.

In fact, if they'd all stop their eternal yak-yaking for a time, I'm prepared to give up my claim to the other two wishes. For it is they, I believe with all my heart, who have so divided and fragmentized us that, at bottom, we are less united than at any time in our history.

I AM WEARY of being told by professional WASPs that there are too many Catholics, Jews or Negroes in any given field and that Anglo-Saxons had better watch out. But I am equally sick and tired of being told by so-called minority spokesmen that there aren't enough, and that jobs should be filled by mathematical quota rather than by ability.

I was neither cheered nor uplifted when the president announced, with appropriate fanfare, that he was on the lookout for a Negro to serve as an ambassador to a foreign country. I want him to be on the lookout for the ablest American for such a job, whatever his or her color or religion. That's when I'll start cheering.

My favorite ballplayer is Willie Mays, but I'd root just as hard if he were a WASP; I admire Bill Buckley — and would were he a Protestant or a Jew, instead of a devout Catholic; and I'd have voted for Barry Goldwater even if he were colored.

IN SHORT, WHAT I'd like—for a spell, at any rate—is a long, cool respite in which we all began thinking of ourselves as plain Americans, not hyphenated ones. It mightn't work—but I think it's worth trying.

Airman Is Promoted

Manford K. Stout, son of Mr. and Mrs. Taylor E. Stout of Point Reyes Station, has been promoted to airman second class at Travis Air Force Base. He is an aircraft mechanic.

Niels Schultz, Jr. is chairman of the Marin County Planning Commission, and Felix Warburg is vice chairman.

Today is Tuesday, July 6, the 187th day of 1965 with 178 to follow.

The moon is in its first quarter. The morning stars are Saturn and Jupiter. The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

John Paul Jones, the founder of the American Navy, was born on this day in 1747.

On this day in history:

In 1885, bacteriologist Louis Pasteur innoculated the first human being, a boy who had been badly bitten by an infected dog. The boy did not develop any infection.

In 1933, an All-Star baseball game was played for the first time. The American League defeated the National League, 4 to 2, in Chicago.

A thought for the day—Daniel Webster said: "There is nothing so powerful as the truth, and often nothing so strange."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Fair Exchange Is Help To Declarer At Bridge

You don't have to lose a trick in a suit when you have a singleton in your own hand and the doubleton ace in the dummy.

In fact, it may be hard to think of any sensible reason for losing such a trick. It isn't hard for readers of this column; they can find ways to lose tricks that ordinary players would never dream of.

3 ♣	3 ♡	5 ♣	All Pass

Opening lead — ♡ K

West leads the king of hearts. The average player would win with dummy's ace and look around for new worlds to conquer, since he has already lost his contract.

HIGH DIAMOND

South loses two spades, and his contract. He is lucky if he loses nothing else.

Every reader of this column knows that South must let West win an unnecessary trick with the king of hearts.

FEEL CONFIDENT

The reader may not know why, but he should feel confident that I wouldn't be making all this fuss about unnecessary tricks if there were not a good reason.

West's best chance is to lead a diamond at the second trick. Declarer puts up dummy's ace and cashes the ace of hearts to get rid of the other diamond.

In effect he has made a trade; he has given the opponents a heart trick but has deprived them of a diamond trick.

CASHES ACE

South ruffs a diamond, cashes the ace of trumps and leads a trump to dummy's nine. He ruffs another diamond and leads a trump to dummy's queen.

By this time the trumps are all out, and declarer can run dummy's good diamonds to get rid of three spades.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes. You hold:

♠ Q J 10 2
♥ 9 8 6 5 3
♦ K Q 10
♣ 8

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid four hearts.

This jump to game in a major suit promises very strong trump support (usually five cards), a singleton or void suit, and not more than 9 points in high cards.

SIR BAGBY

The City of Pittsburg was first called New York-of-the Pacific, a name bestowed in 1849 when William Tecumseh Sherman laid out the townsite for Col. Jonathan D. Stevenson of the First New York Volunteers. In the 1850s, after coal deposits had been discovered at the base of nearby Mount Diablo and manufacturing possibilities loomed, New York of-the-Pacific was changed to Pittsburg, after Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Hysterectomy Operation Called Justified If Woman Benefitted

VAN DELLEN

Removal of the uterus (hysterectomy) is a common operation that is justified so long as the woman is benefitted. This major procedure is classified as elective surgery because it seldom is performed as an emergency, and the physician has ample time to determine whether it should be done. The important considerations center about her childbearing status and emotional stability.

Many physicians hesitate to perform a hysterectomy on a woman under 30 years of age, especially if she is single, separated, or divorced, and more so if she has fewer than three children. The couple may want more youngsters, and it is important to preserve the uterus unless removal is necessary. The same applies to emotionally unstable women because they tend to distort or overdramatize their symptoms. Hysterectomy often is followed by depression or other psychiatric manifestations.

THIS PROCEDURE is the best remedy for uterine cancer. In some instances the operation is preceded by radium treatments. Removal also is indicated when there are large fibroids causing discomfort or bleeding. It is possible, occasionally, to remove tumors without hysterectomy in a woman who has not completed her family. The technique is not easy, especially when fibroids are deep in the wall of the uterus.

The operation is done when there are serious diseases involving the ovaries and other pelvic organs. Removal is advisable under these circumstances when the woman has completed her family because the structure is of no practical value, and the surgeon eliminates a future source of trouble.

THE OPERATION usually is performed through an abdominal incision. The surgeon is able to thoroughly explore the abdominal cavity and also may remove the appendix. Excision via the birth canal is an alternate method. This is a more skillful procedure that requires less time and is associated with a more rapid recovery.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by mail if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.)

REPLY

LIVER ENLARGEMENT

V. G. writes: What causes an enlarged lived in a women 65, and will it continue to grow?

REPLY

There are at least 23 diseases associated with enlargement of the liver. Why not ask the physician who made this diagnosis?

West German Offices Going To New Faces

By JOHN DORNBERG
Worldwide Press Service

BONN—No matter which party wins West Germany's September election, the nation's younger generation is already sure of winning a major niche for itself in government and in politics.

The era of the "wise old men" (who were sometimes not-so-wise), which characterized post-war Germany's public affairs for 20 years, is ending.

With rare exceptions, these men whose public lives have spanned two generations and three German governments—the Weimar Republic of 1918 to 1933, the Hitler Reich of 1933 to 1945 and the present Federal Republic—will retire this fall.

Some are going because they have gracefully recognized that their hour has struck. Others will be eased out of office against their will.

Regardless of the actual outcome of the balloting, it can now be said with certainty that one-third of the nearly 500 faces in the German Bundestag next fall will be new and, for the most part, young.

This estimate is based on the recently completed primary selection of Bundestag candidates on the local level. Under West Germany's complicated election laws, half of the members of Parliament represent individual districts. The other half is selected from party state lists in a ratio proportional to the party's total vote within the state. For both types of candidacies and in all three major parties, the list of contestants next fall will be made up of about one-third new and younger faces.

The rebellion of youth that has rocked the machines of the major parties during recent weeks will topple not only aging back-benchers but some of West Germany's most prominent politicians from their seats in September.

Weber, who has been a member of the Bundestag since 1949, was appointed justice minister in March following the resignation of Dr. Ewald Bucher, who stepped down from the post to protest extension of the statute of limitations on Nazi crimes.

Werner Schwarz, the 65-year-old minister of agriculture, has already announced that he will not be a candidate in September—to avoid a showdown fight with Christian Democratic young Turks in his native Schleswig-Holstein.

Franz Etzel, 63, the former finance minister, has also decided to retire from public life.

On the other side of the political fence, Max Brauer, 78, the former lord mayor of the city-state of Hamburg—who spent 10 years as a college professor in the U.S. and returned to Germany after the war to help rebuild the Social Democratic Party—has been booted from his Hamburg district in a primary election by a 36-year-old political novice.

The same fate almost befell Wenzel Jacksch, 69, a Social Democrat who heads West Germany's incredibly influential League of Expellees (from the Oder-Neisse and Sudenten territories). At the last moment, during a stormy state convention, he managed to make the last safe place on the Northrhine-Westphalian SPD's state list.

There are, of course, exceptions. Konrad Adenauer, who at 89 is still national leader of the Christian Democratic Union (CDU), will return to parliament for a fifth term. When he announced his candidacy, the executive committee of the Northrhine-Westphalian CDU placed him at the top of the state list and the executive committee of his home district, Bonn, voted 56 to 4 in favor of him.

Of the more than 150 members of the Bundestag who have already lost their seats due to primary elections and state conventions, nearly all are in the 60s or 70s. Their replacements, for the most part, are men under 40—a fact which will greatly influence the age makeup of the German parliament. It now averages 53.

Narcotics Have Long History, But Still Present Addiction Problems

By CHARLES SCHAEFFER
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — In 1600 B.C. Egyptian doctors dispensed opium as a pain-killer. The Sumerians used it even earlier—some 6,000 years ago.

During America's Civil War, opium eased the agony of the wounded. But the blessing soon turned into a curse. Soldiers became addicted and civilian patients, injected for many conditions, were hooked. Later, Americans were swigging opium-loaded patent medicines, sold freely in crossroads general stores. By 1900, the United States had 264,000 narcotic addicts, more than five times the current brigade—being singled out for special U.S. rehabilitation efforts.

Something with a familiar modern ring occured in 1900. A rug called diacetylmorphine was developed in Germany and peddled as a safe, non-addictive substitute for the pain-killer, morphine.

Doctors embraced enthusiastically, and then discovered their patients became hooked after all. The drug was Heroin—still a favorite of peddlers and addicts everywhere.

Physicians at the American Medical Assn's. annual meeting last week heard a depressing new version of the old story: many of the modern tranquilizing, sedative and stimulant drugs are turning out to be habit-forming, too.

AMA's committee on alcoholism and addiction said that some doctors are "permitting prolonged and unsupervised administration of barbiturates by a patient for symptomatic relief, often without adequate diagnosis or knowledge of the patient's attitude toward drugs." Also, doctors are shifting to newer sedatives and tranquilizers in the "mistaken belief" that they are not habit-forming.

It now seems pretty clear that heavy use of even the so-called "minor tranquilizers" and sedative-hypnotic drugs may trigger drunken-like assaults, auto accidents and work problems.

When the drugs are withdrawn, the patient may suffer anxiety, twitches, appetite loss, convulsions and insomnia, says Dr. Carl F. Essig of the U.S. Addiction Research Center, Lexington, Ky.

He named seven of the newer non-barbituate compounds as symptom producers when they are abused. These were among drugs developed with the high hopes of avoiding the pitfalls of pain-killing narcotics and barbiturates.

The habit-forming risk appears built into most of the chemicals that act on the mind, the psychopharmacologic drugs. They include:

Narcotic-opiates originally used to kill pain or create a sense of well-being.

Sedative drugs, or central nervous system depressants, called barbiturates a salt of barbituric acid.

Nobody knows how many people are hooked on the drugs not usually linked in the public's mind with dope addiction. But, says AMA's committee, "It appears that current production of sedatives exceeds legitimate medical need by a considerable margin."

The committee urged doctors to take a "dominant role" in curbing the abuse of sedatives. This can be done by discouraging self-medication and by parceling out the minimum amount of the drugs to control the patient's condition.

Too many doctors are apparently giving in to patients who say they can't sleep, the committee said.

"If a patient complains that the prescribed amount of drug does not control symptoms . . . he may be developing tolerance to the effect of the drug. To give him an increased dosage may lead to drug dependence."

Other doctors talked about side effects of high blood pressure drugs. But their comments also apply.

Dr. George A. Perera of Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons calls the therapy of any disease a calculated risk, and the "physician must be qualified to assume this important responsibility."

"Whenever he uses a drug he must be a concerned and conscientious watchdog, familiar with the signs, symptoms and patterns which will alert him—preferably beforehand—to the complications and even dangers produced by his good intentions."

Deputies Chase Cyclists Away

Two members of another motorcycle club, the Galloping Gooses, were arrested on outstanding traffic warrants. Authorities identified them as Charles Arthur Forseyth, 27, and Kathryn Alice Varin, 27, both of North Hollywood.

About 15 motorcyclists had gathered on the beach along Pacific Coast Highway in Ventura County, three miles north of the Los Angeles County line, deputies reported.

Callas Defies Doctor, Sings For The Queen

LONDON (UPI) — Soprano Maria Callas defied doctor's orders last night and sang La Tosca for Queen Elizabeth and a capacity audience at the Covent Garden Opera House. It was her first performance in a month.

Miss Callas received 11 curtain calls and a standing ovation.

Internal, External Woes Now Plaguing Malaysia

By ALEX JOSEY
Worldwide Press Service

SINGAPORE — Malaysia, a four-state experiment in multi-racialism, has had an enemy from the very start of its existence in 1963 — President Sukarno of neighboring Indonsia, who has vowed to "crush" the federation.

Nobody here has taken his threats very seriously, in view of the 50,000 Commonwealth troops in the area (with airpower) and the 70 British warships here in Singapor. Now, however, the same political leaders who scoff at Sukarno are talking openly of the danger that Malaysia could collapse from within.

A running verbal duel between Lee Kuan Yew, head of the state government of Singapore, and Tunku Abdul Rahman, prime minister of Malaysia, has existed almost since the grouping of Malaya, Singapore, Sabah and Sarawak into Malaysia. This recently burgeoned into a five-day clash in parliament between their respective political parties.

The result, in the view of many observers, is that the success of Malaysia with its 40 per cent Malays, 43 per cent Chinese and assorted Indians, Pakistanis, Dusuns, Muruts, Sea Dyaks, Land Dyaks and others, can no longer be simply assumed.

The basic mutual suspicion is between the United Malaya National Organization (in Kuala Lumpur, the federal capital) dominated by Malays, and Singapore's Peoples Action Party is dominated by Chinese. Lee's complaint is that the UMNO is out to create a Malay-controlled Malaysia. In the parliamentary debate, a UMNO delegate countered by calling the People Action Party "pro-Chinese, communist-oriented and positively anti-Malay."

Dato Ismal, Malaysia's Minister for home affairs, gave what is presumably the Alliance Government's explanation of the quarrel. He told parliament there were two ways of establishing Malaysia. One as advocated by the Peoples Action Party, was to "impose" non-communalism right away. The other was the Alliance way. This was the first to foster inter-racial harmony between racially organized groups and then, later, to develop non-communalism.

S. Rajaratnam, Singapore's minister for culture, challenged the logic of the Alliance approach to Malaysia. He asserted that the communal bodies which formed the Alliance, being political bodies, must resist any development which would undermine racial groups; they would do this in reflection of their own interests in survival.

Rajaratnam charged that Malays joining the multi-racial Peoples Action Party were being called "traitors to their race" by leaders of UMNO. "How can your form a multi-racial nation on that basis?" he asked.

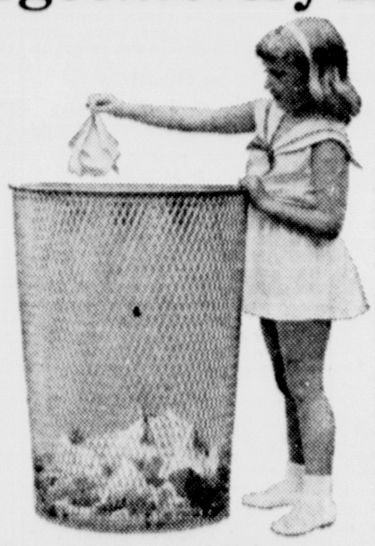
The open squabble in parliament went on five days and was interrupted only by the king's official birthday when the constitutional monarch took the opportunity, upon the advice of the prime minister, too call for calm. The king advised the nation not to be unduly worried about "the thrust and parry of depate" or the "rivalries and differences that arise." He told the people to carry on with their normal way of life and let those they had elected do the talking.

Meanwhile, in a public speech, Lee had stated that "if they don't want a Malaysian Malaysia" the extremists should make up their minds now so that "other arrangements" could be made. He mentioned a confederation consisting of "those states which do want a Malaysian Malaysia."

Lee accused UMNO leaders of passing the "real message" to the Malays in communal propaganda contained in "Utusan Melayu," the Jawi-language newspaper controlled by UMNO leaders. In parliament, he said, UMNO leaders did no more than pay lip-service to multi-racialism. Lee claimed that all this proved the existence of a "clear intention and systematic policy" to build up an atmosphere of communalism and racialism. "Are we inflaming passions by pointing out what they are saying" he demanded.

What is not clear is whether mutual suspicions and fears have been allayed. Time alone can supply the answer to that vital question. This is a matter which only the people of Malaysia can decide.

"Daddy, you forgot...every litter bit hurts!"



It happens in the best of families! Mom and Dad heading up a family day can forget that every litter bit hurts . . . in more ways than one. ■ Every litter bit thoughtlessly dropped blemishes the beauty of a picnic spot that belongs to every American family . . . contradicts the early citizenship training you want your children to have in the home, as well as in school, camp, and scouting. ■ Kids are realists, right? If you're a litterbug, even unknowingly, why shouldn't they be? So, Dad, please—lead the way to the litter basket. Use a car litterbag. Carry litter out of camping areas. Make it a family project to Keep America Beautiful!

TELEVISION REVIEW

Romantic Stories Needed On Network

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — I guess the most romantic thing I have seen on television in recent years was that commercial where the boy and girl go dancing down Park Avenue at night because the girl is happy she is a blonde, or something like that, maybe. I don't guarantee the facts about the commercial, but the notion that people go dancing down New York streets at night was splendid romanticism.

What I am getting around to is that what television entertainment really needs badly is solid romantic stories, about real people doing real — or near-real — things, or at least doing acceptably real things with some charm. And that is why last night's CBS-TV "Summer Playhouse" attraction, a half-hour test film for a projected series called "Sam and Sally" that never made the network schedule, seemed worth tuning in on the basis of the advance summary: "A romantic comedy about two young people who meet and fall in love on a lively New York weekend."

Think of it! — no witches, robots, hillbilly servicemen or other assorted way-out, unreal — or at least unrepresentative — types. Well, I won't bother you with the details except to say that the romance resulted after Sam (Gary Lockwood) pretended to be a cousin of Sally's (Cynthia Pepper's) roommate, who was out of much of a show — but the idea for such a series wasn't entirely a bad one, better than many now on. I don't think there's much doubt that one of the reasons for the popularity of many old movies on television is that they deal more often with fairly real people.

One of the problems with Hollywood — and New York-based networks — is that it usually takes quite a while for new attitudes to get through. For example, "Sam and Sally" not only recalled the basic format of "The Moon is Blue" and "The Voice of the Turtle" — one amiable girl-chaser plus one virtuous girl in the big, big town —but also seemed to be date back to the years of those productions. Not missing a trick, the show even tossed in an Eve Arden-type, wisecracking, man-crazy roommate for the girl.

Church May End Interracial Ban

CHICAGO (UPI) — The United Church of Christ at its national assembly yesterday called for repeal of state laws banning interracial marriages.

The 738 delegates to the church's fifth general synod in Chicago also approved resolutions seeking repeal of discriminatory immigration laws, and urging equal opportunity for Negroes in education, employment, public accommodations and union membership.

The synod advised its two million members to "engage in persuasion, in negotiation, in reconciliation and in nonviolent, direct action for racial justice, and to support others who are so engaged."

Britain Drops Peace Mission

LONDON (AP) — The British government announced today it has dropped, for the time being, its efforts to lead a Commonwealth mission in search of a Viet Nam peace settlement, because of Communist opposition.

Commonwealth Secretary Arthur Bottomley told the House of Commons in answer to a question: "Her Majesty's government does not intend at the moment to take any further initiative with our Commonwealth partners on Viet Nam."

At the same time Prime Minister Harold Wilson announced that he had invited U.N. Secretary-General U Thant to stop for talks in London on his way back to New York from Geneva.

SQUARE DANCE FOR MEXICANS —West Novato School pupils practice square dance routine they intend to perform in Mexico in a return visit for Mexican pupils who attended their school. The reason: the Mexicans performed their native dances for Novatans. Promenading are (front) Rebecca Janison and Kim Marks, and Diane Weatherholtz and Stewart Walkenhorst.

OFF TO MEXICO

Novato Children Will Repay Visit

One of the planes leaving San Francisco International Airport tomorrow will have a dream in its cargo, along with 27 young Novatans.

They will be heading for Mexico City in a reciprocal visit for the year spent in Novato by two Mexican youngsters Twenty-five of the Marin children are fifth and sixth graders at West Novato School, which the Mexican youngsters attended during their stay here, while two are the children of faculty members chaperoning the trip.

The students have been working throughout the school year to earn money for the trip, which will cost about $160 per person. In addition, the West Novato Carnival and some civic organizations contributed to their fund.

The idea for the trip was spawned while West Novato School was affiliated under the American Friends Service Committee's School Affiliation Service with the Centra Urbana President Aleman School in Mexico City. The schools are no longer affiliated, but the trip will proceed anyway.

While they are in Mexico City, the Novato youngsters will spend each night in the Casa de los Amigos, a Quaker center run by the AFSC.

The visitors from Marin will visit nine schools in the capital. One, Escuela Heroes de la Libertad, they hope to be their next affiliate in Mexico; its principal is the wife of the former president of Mexico, Adolfo Lopez Mateos.

Their translator on the tour will be Herberto Sein, a translator for the United Nations who served French President Charles De Gaulle when he was in Mexico.

The highlight of the trip will be July 17, when the Marinites will hold a reception for their friends in Mexico, numbering more than 200. Before this they will visit most of the tourist attractions in the city.

The students going are:

William Bolton, Mickie Conway, Pamela Cornett, Emily Eckhoff, Teresa Guerin, Desiree Hubbard, Rebecca Janison, Rebecca Johnson, Robert Klein, Martin Larsen, Judith Larson, Joe Lusk, Kim Marks, Michael Metteer, Roger Purdy, Deborah Riggins, Rex Rolle, Gerald Schreiber, Barry Sullivan, Richard Tuck, Stewart Walkenhorst, Janet Walker, Diane Weatherholtz, Jennifer Womack and Elena York, Steve Smith and Lorrie Suhl are alternates.

Donald Wineland, principal, and Mrs. Beverly Ehreth, Mrs. Carlin Nelson, Diana Davison, Cynthia Nunes and Claire Molenkamp are the teachers going. Miranda Nelson and Deborah Wineland will go with their parents.

Observers have found huge areas of the Indian Ocean—as large as 75,000 square miles—covered by millions of tons of dead fish.

Sophia Loren Trial Delayed

ROME (AP) — Italy brought Academy Award winning actress Sophia Loren and movie producer Carlo Ponti to trial today in a Rome criminal court on bigamy charges.

The court formally opened the case and then, after a 30-minute session, granted the movie couple's request for a postponement. The next session was set for Oct. 21.

Neither Miss Loren nor Ponti were in court. They are doing film work outside Italy. Their attorneys represented them.

NANCY NOBLE

VICKIE ROW

JEANNIE BERGALA

Three Seeking Queen Title

Novato's Western Weekend Queen, Nancy Noble, 17, of 237 Bolling Drive, Hamilton Air Force Base, and two other Novato girls have entered the Miss Sonoma - Marin counties queen contest which will be decided at the Sonoma-Marin Fair, July 15-18.

Also entering the contest were Jeannie Bergala, 19, of 1025 Fifth Street and Vickie Row, 17, of 1101 Cambridge Street, both of Novato.

The queen will be chosen the opening night of the fair and will advance to the Maid of California Contest at the State Fair in August.

Bond Vote Drive Reports Expense

The campaign for Proposition "A," the successful $7,750,000 bond issue for the new Hall of Justice wing at the Civic Center, collected and spent $10,816, campaign co-chairman Fred F. Enemark reported today.

There were 153 contributors, whose donations ranged from $1 to $1,000 and had an average value of $70, with 105 contributions that were under $25 and 48 that were over $25, Enemark said.

"The bulk of our expenditures were made for advertising, mailings, printing, pamphlets, bumper strips, etc., and for secretarial and related costs involved in operating our campaign headquarters in San Rafael," he reported.

The issue voted on at the June 8 special election was the first countywide bond issue to pass in Marin in 40 years.

Narcotics Speaker

Marin Sheriff's Inspector Arthur Menjou will speak on narcotics tomorrow to the luncheon meeting of the San Rafael Lions Club at 12:15 p.m. at the Elk's Club, 1312 Mission Avenue, San Rafael.

British Methodists Favor Angelican Ties

PLYMOUTH, England (AP)—Britain's Methodists voted overwhelmingly yesterday to seek closer relations with the Church of England, which they left two centuries ago.

The 666 laymen and ministers voted by an equal margin, however, against seeking closer ties with all Christian churches, in a move which appeared aimed at preventing the forging of links with the Roman Catholic Church.

Three Marin Postmasters Are Nominated

Two weeks ago he was appointed acting postmaster, relieveing William D. McDonald Jr., who had been acting postmaster since October, 1963. McDonald will remain as a clerk.

President Johnson made the nomination and two others in Marin, which are expected to be approved by the Senate, Associated Press reported from Washington.

Also nominated by the president to become permanent postmaster was Theodore J. Lehman, acting postmaster since October, 1964, of the Belvedere-Tiburon post office.

Acting Woodacre postmaster Marylu Giddings, who has held her post since June, 1963, also was nominated for permanent appointment.

Sausalito has had three acting postmasters since postmaster Thomas M. Bradley retired in February, 1959.

Medeiros, 49, has lived in Sausalito all his life and attended local schools. He took five years from his post office duties during World War II to serve in the Army in Alaska.

State Highway Bids Called For 101 Job

Bids have been called for Aug. 11 on reconstruction of shoulders and resurfacing of 1.1 miles of Highway 101 between San Rafael viaduct and Lincoln Avenue.

In announcing the call for bids in Sacramento, the state Department of Public Works said that $100,000 is budgeted for the job.

Interchange Project Largest In Marin

The biggest highway project under way in Marin is the $616,000 interchange job to ease the off-ramp congestion at the San Rafael Viaduct on Highway 101, according to the State Division of Highways.

The project, now one-third of the way toward completion, is part of the division's proposal San Quentin Wye north to Miller Creek Road interchange at Marinwood.

Several other design studies for Highway 101 are in progress, including minor frontage road changes at Manuel T. Freitas Parkway and the addition of two lanes from Third Street in San Rafael to .2 of a mile north of San Pedro Road.

The latter project will involve a collector road from Third Street to Mission Avenue.

Also being designed is the addition of two lanes on Highway 101 from Manuel T. Freitas Parkway to Miller Creek Road.

A major design study involved the re-routing of Highway 101 east of Novato. The job will change the route from Highway 37 interchange to Atherton Avenue near San Marin Drive.

Resurfacing jobs from Richardson Bay Bridge to Corte Madera Creek and from Atherton Avenue to the Petaluma overhead are to go to bid early next summer, the division reports.

On Route 1, the Coast Highway, the division reports that a $17,500 job to revise drainage facilities from Stinson Beach to Marshall will be finished this month.

Replacement of Stemple Creek Bridge and realignment for .4 of a mile from Point Reyes Station are projects still under study.

Route location studies from Highway 101 to Olema are still inactive, pending Marin County planning studies on Route 1, the report states.

Construction of .8 of a mile of Route 131, Tiburon Boulevard between Blackfield Drive to a point just beyond Reed Ranch Road, is about one-fourth completed. The $610,000 job will be finished this fall, the division says.

Studies are still in progress for location of the major east-west route from Point San Quentin to West Marin.

"Location, type of facility and number of lanes are still to be determined," the division says.

Music Teachers To Get Hearing

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — The state board of education is scheduled to hear a report in San Francisco on July 8 that music is in danger of being eliminated from California schools.

The California Music Educators Assn. has warned that, if present trends are not reversed, music instruction would be eliminated from the schools.

"At a time when our society desperately needs the humanistic and aesthetic values that are inherent in music, we are on the verge of educating a generation of citizens that may well be devoid of these necessary ingredients for a balanced, wholesome life," the association said.

The board, meeting for two days, will consider special programs for disadvantaged children, federal aid to education and, as usual some school district reorganization matters.

Annual Dinner Set

The annual dinner meeting of the North Bay Industry Lighting Fund will be held at Sabella's of Marin on July 14, according to Karl Stolting, chairman.
